Hit Drys in Subsidy Bill

REFUSE TO BAN SHIP LIQUOR

Merchant Marine Measure Is Reported by House Committee

ACTION THREATENS TO KILL PROPOSAL

Amendment Provides Two-Thirds of Crews Must be American

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Liquor for beverage purposes cannot be shipped into American territory either by land or water, even though it may be on its way to a foreign country, a ruling issued today by the bureau of internal revenue, with the approval of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon declares. This is understood to prevent foreign, as well as American, ships from bringing liquor for beverage purposes into the three mile zone around American coasts. The ruling seems to prevent American ships that the shipping board has ruled can sell liquors on the high seas from bringing intoxicants intended for beverage purposes into the three mile zone.

Immediately following the ruling, however, confusion existed as to the exact effect of the order on the shipping board's policy. Any such liquor "so transported in or through American territory will be subject to seizure and the persons transporting it subject to prosecution," the ruling states.

Liquor for non-beverage purposes, under the ruling can be transported through the country only under special permits and under bond.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The administration's ship subsidy bill without the ban on liquor aboard ships, demanded by prohibitionists in congress, was favorably reported to the house today by the merchant marine committee.

The bill was reported by a strict vote of nine to four.

The committee rejected the Bankhead amendment, which asked that any vessel carrying liquor inside or outside the three-mile zone, the vote is understood to have been nine to four.

This action threatens to precipitate a war between wets and drys that may prove fatal.

An amendment was adopted requiring that within three years two-thirds of the crew in the engine room, on the deck, and in the quartermaster department of American ships must be American citizens.

LEARNS RUSSIA KIN THOUGHT DEAD, LIVE

HANFORD, Cal., June 16.—Four hundred thousands roubles' worth of postage was required on a letter received today from Volga district of Russia which conveyed the information to I. Shouman, prominent merchant of this city, that all his relatives, whom he had supposed dead are alive.

Shouman's father and mother live, the letter said, as do a number of other relatives, though they have been on the point of starvation and beg help from their well-to-do relation in America. Shouman has sent aid in the form of American Relief administration food orders by cable.

For over four years Shouman has been trying to trace his

Secretary Fall Backs Swings Bill for Boulder Dam Project

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Secretary of the Interior Fall today gave his endorsement to the bill by Representative Swing, Republican, California, providing for the construction of the Boulder Canyon dam and the federal development of the lower Colorado basin.

However, Fall indicated he believed bonds should be issued to cover the expense of this proposed project instead of appropriating money direct from the treasury. The Swing bill authorized an initial direct appropriation of $70,000,000.

Gotham Suburb Fire Follows Mysterious Blast; Fear Blind Man Victim of Flames.

ARVERNE, N. Y., June 16.—With 15,000 persons homeless and sixteen blocks of Arverne in smoking ruins, police today were searching for the cause of the conflagration which swept 400 buildings in this New York city suburb last night, causing a loss of $2,000,000.

The fire started near the Hotel Nautilus with a sound like an explosion.

A blind man is declared by spectators to have been seen hemmed in by flames, frantically dashing about in all directions seeking escape. He is believed to have perished.

Democrats Howl As Republicans Land Good Jobs

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The treasury shakeup planned by the administration is a move to retire Secretary Mellon from office, Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, charged in the senate today opening an attack on the administration for "removing Democrats from office to give Republicans jobs."

"Harding is dominated too much by a group of sinister politicians," Senator King, Utah, Democrat, declared.

Mellon today struck back at Republican congressmen who are circulating a petition to President Harding, demanding the removal of more than 100 persons, said to be Democrats from offices in the treasury department.

"The affairs of the treasury are of too great importance to allow of interference in proper conduct through introduction of petty politics."

Banker Missing With $72,000 Is Sought By Wife

(United Press Leased Wire) SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—Mrs. Lorraine Arleigh, of Tracy, Calif., today appealed to the police to search for her husband, A. B. Arleigh, former president of the Bank of Tracy. She said that he had been missing since the night of June 8, when he left a party at a local cafe. He had told her he was going to Berkeley, Mrs. Arleigh said.

Mrs. Arleigh told the police that the day before her husband dropped from sight he had told her of drawing $12,000 in cash from a bank and of taking approximately $60,000 from his safe deposit box.

Arleigh retired from the Bank of Tracy last year.

ALLEGED SLAYER IN BLACKMAIL CASE PLEADS NOT GUILTY

(United Press Leased Wire) WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 16.—Walter S. Ward, arraigned before Justice Morschauser, pleaded not guilty today to a charge of murder growing out of his killing Clarence Peters, who he alleged tried to blackmail him.

The inside story of the alleged plot has been told Justice Morschauser by Ralph D. Ward, a brother of the prisoner, it was learned today. Authorities are checking up on Ralph's statement to Justice Morschauser. Their investigation may lead to the arrest of two alleged blackmailers known as "Jack" and "Ross," who are believed to be race track habitués.

Ward, confessed killer of Peters, did so to end unbearable blackmail that arose from his follies at the race track, according to the story told by his brother.

The blackmailers, known to Ward as "Jack" and "Ross," made Ward's life a living hell, according to his brother. They were at him each day with new threats and more exorbitant demands.

They invaded his office at the Ward Baking company and talked loudly of affairs of the track, urging him to bet while he made vain efforts to quiet them lest employees hear them.

Finally, the night before the killing of Peters, the blackmailers lured Ward to a lonely spot near White Plains, according to his brother's story. As he left hurriedly in his coupe after an angry meeting, they fired two shots at him. The next night Ward went armed to a rendezvous. It was on this second occasion, his brother believes, that Walter shot Peters in self-defense.

HOOSIER STATE MAN TO HEAD BAPTISTS

(United Press Leased Wire) INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 16.—Dr. Frederick Taylor of Indianapolis was nominated for president of the Northern Baptist convention by the nominating committee today.

His election was generally conceded.

As a compromise move between the ultra-conservatives, who had considered placing their own man in nomination and the liberals who control the convention, the committee nominated Dr. Frank M. Goodchild of New York, for vice president. Goodchild had been most prominently mentioned by the conservative minority as the presidential timber.

NEW LAW FIGHTS SEEN AS SCORE WIN $10,000 IN OIL ROW

Although unit holders of the Huntington Crude Oil company were today in possession of a court judgment representing in the neighborhood of $10,000 against A. E. Ensign and L. M. Heimer, promoters of the company, they were shown to have lost two valuable oil leases and in addition were facing prospect, it was said, of further legal fights to retain the ground they had won.

Counsel for Ensign and Heimer were considering an appeal from judgment late yesterday by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, who awarded the Huntington Crude Oil company all funds received by Ensign and Heimer from the sale of stock, over and above what money was actually expended for promotion of the company.

The judgment would doubtless have included possession of the valuable Robinson and Carey leases, which Ensign and Heimer were charged with having privately assigned to other interests after they had been assigned to the Huntington Crude Oil company, except for several factors.

Removed as Issue in Case

These were that the showing made at the trial to the effect that both leases had lapsed and the property reverted to control of its owners, had removed them as an issue from the case, and likewise released the Success Oil company and John Theriot, co-defendants with Ensign and Heimer, from any connection with the case. The leases had been assigned, it was said, to the Success Oil company and Theriot.

Although the exact accounting of funds which Ensign and Heimer are ordered to refund to the Huntington Crude Oil company has not been made, the amount is roughly estimated to be between $8,000 and $10,000, according to a statement today by Attorney Robert Thompson, representing Ensign and Heimer.

The amount known to have been expended in promotion of the company was said to be about $27,000, including $14,000 paid in cash and stock for leases to R. W. Edens, $10,000 to Ensign and Heimer for promotion services, and $2,000 for building a derrick.

Still Holds 50 Acres

Thompson's estimate presumably represents the amount, above that sum, which was received by Ensign and Heimer from the sale of stock. The judgment was made jointly and severally against Ensign and Heimer.

The Huntington Crude Oil company, although losing the Robinson and Carey leases, still holds fifty acres, it was said, including 20 acres sub-leased to McIntyre Brothers, whose well has been expected "in" daily, thus intensifying the court battle in progress here.

Ensign and Heimer put up a brief defense yesterday, being the only witnesses, besides Edens, to appear in their own behalf. United States District Attorney Joe Burke was not called to the witness stand, although he was at the courthouse.

The plaintiff unit holders, which included more than a score of prominent citizens from Anaheim and vicinity, were represented at the trial by three legal firms, West and Buck, and Scarborough, Forry and Reinhaus, of Santa Ana, and Allen and Lyon, of Fullerton.

RADICAL FORCES LOSE FIGHT IN LABOR MEET

(United Press Leased Wire) OHIO NATIONAL GUARD ARMY, Cincinnati, June 16.—For the second time in two days the American Federation of Labor convention here today struck at the "one big union" idea and the radicals who support it, when it rejected a resolution providing for a universal union label to be used by all trades, instead of the forty-one different labels now in use.

The resolution was offered by G. E. Mikel, Arkansas, who said a universal label would end confusion in the use of labels.

Vice President Matthew Wolf indirectly charged that the resolution emanated from the ranks of the radical supporters of the "one big union." He urged the convention to reject the proposal unanimously and "thus end this whole question for all time."

Organized labor and the American Legion have "as common enemies those who seek to tear down the integrity of the nation," Hanford MacNider, national commander of the legion, told the convention in a speech today. MacNider declared that the legion, like organized labor, is not in politics but that both are determined that "the country we worked and fought for shall stay American."

MARCONI EFFORT TO HEAR MARS FAILURE

BY JACK DARROCK (Copyright, 1922, By The United Press)

ABOARD MARCONI'S PRIVATE YACHT ELLECTRA, Hudson River, June 16.—Mysterious sounds came from the ether to the powerful, but delicately tuned receiving sets in Senator William Marconi's private cabin during his fortnight's vigil on the Atlantic awaiting messages from Mars.

But the visiting planet, closer now than for nine years, failed to communicate definitely with the earth, the inventor said upon arrival off New York today.

"I listened practically all the time—day and night for two weeks," Marconi said in an exclusive interview with the United Press. "I had my own instruments ready so they would receive from anybody, no matter where or who might send."

"Several times I heard mysterious sounds I could not understand or explain. I do not think they were from Mars. In fact I am not certain if Martians are trying to communicate. But I was there to do everything possible to record messages if any were sent."

"I shall continue to try to receive communications from Mars, however slight the chances of success."

"Sunday, when the planet comes closest to us, I shall be 'on the job' all day, and shall pay every attention to picking up possible messages from the Martians."

Marconi told of his latest invention, nearly perfected, which enables him to send wireless in any direction, instead of broadcasting.

He declared he is now able to send 100 miles "straight ahead" to a receiver and he is uninterrupted.

MINERS TO AID RAIL WORKERS

Government Action Alone Can Prevent Gigantic Tie-up, View

BLAME WAGE SLASH AS CRISIS LOOMING

Leaders to Confer Sunday on Plans for Joining Forces in Fight

(United Press Leased Wire) CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 16.—Joint action by the United Mine workers and the railroad unions affected by the recent wage cuts will be discussed at a conference to be held here as soon as John L. Lewis, head of the miners, arrives, it was learned today.

B. M. Jewell, head of the rail unions' executive board, now in session here, was expected to issue a public call this afternoon for the conference.

Lewis is expected to arrive in Cincinnati Sunday.

The joint conference is to discuss the impending railroad strike now being voted on by the workers affected by the wage cuts.

The railroad union executives today authorized Jewell to request the conference with the miners under the cooperative agreement reached at Chicago following the last convention of the miners.

This agreement provides that whenever either party requests it the other party shall agree to a conference to discuss joint action on matters of common interest.

The miners will agree to the conference, Jewell was unofficially informed by William Green, secretary treasurer of the United Mine workers, here today.

The forthcoming conference may result in an agreement between the miners and rail workers to stick together in a nation-wide strike movement.

The effect of such joint action, rail union leaders here pointed out, might be to have tentative negotiations now under way in some quarters for settlement of the coal strike.

Economically a national industrial, such joint action would hit the nation's business a paralyzing blow.

The possibility that the threat of joint action might force aggressive government intervention to prevent the rail strike on July 1, which rail union heads here now regard as inevitable, was being kept in mind.

A railroad strike on about July 1 is now regarded by labor leaders here as inevitable unless the government intervenes to prevent it.

Revision by the United States labor board of the recently announced wage scales for railroad employees and maintenance of way employees is the only thing that can prevent a paralyzing transportation tieup, a railroad union spokesman told the United Press.

Some of the union leaders here representing the eleven shop crafts an maintenance of way workers believe President Harding may avert the strike at the last moment by using his influence to have the labor board hold up the reductions which were ordered for July.

With the unions voting overwhelmingly for a strike, according to announcement from union headquarters here, the leaders are formally and publicly on record as refusing to accept responsibility for the strike.

GOV. CAMPBELL CALLS BLYTHE FLOOD PARLEY

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 16.—In an effort to reach agreement on some plan to save the town of Blythe from the rising flood waters of the Colorado river, Governor Campbell today appointed representatives to confer with California experts at Blythe next Sunday.

He named Thomas Maddock, state engineer; W. S. Norviel, state water commissioner, and W. J. Galbraith, attorney general, who will meet with Melville Dozier jr., general manager of the California reclamation force, and Paul Bailey, deputy state engineer, appointed by Director of Public Works A. B. Fletcher, under authority of Governor Stephens. The Blythe officials are said to favor changing the river channel, a plan which has been opposed by Arizona engineers, because it would necessitate throwing several square miles of Arizona lands to the California side of the river, and might possibly create a menace to the Yuma valley, it is said.

CHIROPRACTORS IN CONFERENCE

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—The most important conference yet to be held in the chiropractors' campaign will take place in Fresno, Saturday evening, June 17, when delegates of Southern and Northern California chiropractors will hold a joint meeting.

From the results of the conference will be formulated the state-wide policy of the campaign in the closing months before the November election when Initiative Bill No. 16 will come before the California electorate.

Bill No. 16 will establish a board of qualified chiropractors, appointed by the Governor of the state, which will examine all chiropractic applicants before such persons will be allowed to practice their profession. At present, chiropractors assert, there is no provision in existing statutes whereby chiropractors may procure a permit from the state to practice their profession.

At least 1000 chiropractors, representing 1000 of the state, will take part in the Fresno conference.

ALLEGED INSANE RANCHER FLEES CO. HOSPITAL

No trace had been found this afternoon of Fred B. Tuffree, well known rancher, of Placentia, who last night carried out asserted threats to escape from the county hospital, where he was being held pending an examination into his sanity.

From remarks Tuffree was said to have made to the authorities prior to his departure, he was believed to have headed toward Mexico with the intention of never returning should he succeed in crossing the border.

According to Under Sheriff E. L. French, who saw Tuffree at the hospital yesterday, the latter calmly assured him that he would not remain in the hospital. Tuffree, it was said, hinted at troubles which he seemed to be suffering from, but would recover if he had the proper chance.

"I don't intend to stay here," he told French, it was said. "And if I get out, I'll be gone for good," he was said to have added.

Little attention was paid to the remark, but early today it was discovered that Tuffree had carried out his threat. Bars pried from his cell revealed the manner of egress.

Tuffree was said to have been subjected to periodic intervals of mental derangement but at other times was sane. According to the authorities, he realized his own condition and claimed to "have gone reason for being off."

Several previous complaints of insanity have been filed against him during recent years and several times, it was said, the authorities have been called on to bring Tuffree back from suddenly executed flights into the hills.

There are many considerations to be gone over in relation to each site, it was stated. All kinds of hazards are looked into. Transportation, swimming places, playgrounds and similar subjects are discussed.

Market Report

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, June 16.—(United Press)—Prices fluctuated nervously throughout the session under pressure in the morning trading broke Crucible, Baldwin, American Sugar, Marine preferred, Royal Dutch and many other active industrials to new lows on the decline.

But stocks showed a better tone in the afternoon and a rallying tendency was in evidence before the close. Federal reserve statement set forth further reduction in the volume of rediscounting operations. This item for the entire system dropped $7,000,000 lower than the previous week's total of $20,000,000, demonstrating that there is nothing alarming in the brokerage loan situation. Member banks are planning to take care of Wall street's credit requirement without recourse to the federal reserve.

Considerable apprehension has recently been expressed over the rise in brokerage loans to around $1,500,000,000 compared with a high of $1,750,000,000 in 1919 at the peak of the era of post-war inflation.

But experienced observers point out that the 1919 bull market was in industrials alone while the railroads were neglected and even depressed. In a market, in which the carrier group participates to a rightful degree, careful students say that brokerage loans might be expanded to $3,000,000,000 with perfect safety and at the same time help the business of the country and stimulate confidence and enterprise.

From a technical standpoint the rails are in better position than the industrial to take an advantage of reduction of the primary forward movement.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE
CIT. AGO, June 16.—Grain prices advanced at the close of the Chicago Board of Trade today on heavy buying by shorts and an exceptionally heavy export demand. Hot and dry weather in the Southwest was also a bullish factor. The government purchase of large supply of spring hogs to feed caused strength in corn. Provisions were higher.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS
SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—(United Press)—The movement on cantelopes from Imperial Valley is now in full swing. Cars are leaving the valley at the rate of 250 or better each day. Because of Shriners Week in San Francisco this market has been receiving more than its proportional quota of cars. According to dealers, San Francisco will consume about eight cars daily. Receipts, however, have fallen off for the last day or so because of practically no demand for cantelopes. Improved demand has caused a better feeling today and prices are practically unchanged.

The F. of P. price at shipping point is reported at $1.60 for standard crates. Standard crates, however, are much lighter today although plentiful.

Very few figs have been received of late and prices are high. The selling up to $2.25 and $2.75 a flat crate. Tomatoes are easier. Several dealers are offering prices as low as 20c to 25c a crate, ranging from $2.50 to $3.00 each.

Imperial crates sold generally from $2.25 to $2.50 each.
Peas are now selling up to 4 cents a pound and bell peppers from Florida were quoted at 30 cents a pound. The supply of both bell and chili peppers is very light. Beans were about two cents higher while berry prices were about the same though the quality is not so good.

Shipping point prices on grapefruit have advanced to $4.50, necessitating a proportionate advance locally.

Supplies light: Pineapples, blackberries, gooseberries, figs, currants, good celery, artichokes, cabbage, egg-plant, peppers, sweet corn.
Supplies Liberal: Strawberries, apples, grapefruit, oranges, bananas, lemons, apricots, cherries, raspberries, potatoes, asparagus, spinach, peas, lettuce, cucumbers.

Merry "Spool" Party Offers Original Amusement to Afternoon Guests

Productive of a delightful afternoon was the original idea involved in the amusement offered yesterday by Mrs. A. E. Chapman, when she entertained her fellow officers of Tent No. 10, Daughters of Veterans, at James's gold room.

Bidden to a "spool" party, the guests were handed necklaces of red, white and blue ribbon carrying a single spool with the date written on it. The spool idea was carried out in a series of games and contests, a spool hunt offering merriment and the prize of a bunch of candy frecklechees. Miss Minnie Cowan being the fortunate collector of the greatest number of spools and winning the prize. A spool stringing contest and a conversational game, where spools were forfeited when the word "yes" was spoken, were among the amusing events of the afternoon, which ended with the serving of a delicious tea menu at one long table made lovely with sweet peas and sprays of baby's breath.

Mrs. Chapman received a surprise when her assembled friends gave her a set of handsome salad forks in honor of her birthday, an anniversary she thought was unknown to them. A special guest on the occasion, Mrs. Estelle Ludwig, president of the W. R. C., also recognized the anniversary with a dainty linen guest towel and a sheaf of lovely lilies.

Mrs. Chapman's guest list included all the members of the official family of the Daughters, of which organization she is president. They are Mrs. Nellie Parker, Miss Adda Cowan, Miss Minnie Cowan, Mesdames Edith Ward, Floss La Bounty, Harriet Leipsic, Esther Gardner, Stella Anderson, Sarah Jones, Addie Gardner, Helen Lurker, Lula Davis, Dora Britton, Daisy Hawley, Olive Ludlow, Laura Boyd, Eva Bell, Helen McPhee, Elizabeth Adams, Sarah Brown and Flora Phillips, and Mrs. Estelle Ludwig, of the W. R. C.

High Noon Ceremony Unites Prominent Young Couple At Sister's Home

It was an ideal day for a June wedding when on Wednesday, June 14, Miss Lorena Blackwood became the bride of William Bruce Gibson at a charming ceremony performed at high noon at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Eisele, on Santiago street.

Surrounded by parents, brothers and sisters, the young couple took their vows in a shower of Shasta daisies and ferns. The impressive double ring ceremony was used with the Rev. G. W. Greer reading the marriage service.

Miss Blackwood was a charming bride in her gown of white brocade crepe de chine with bead trimming and over drapes of lace. She carried an arm cluster of bride's roses and her sole ornament was a handsome string of pearls, the gift of the groom.

Following the ceremony, an elaborate wedding breakfast was served in the dining room, fragrant with masses of sweet peas. The snowy linen of the table was dotted with the lovely blossoms while a handsomely decorated wedding cake occupied the center.

Dainty brides formed the cards which indicated places for the newly-wedded Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, the Rev. Greer and Mrs. Greer, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grauer of Hemet, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Eisele, Miss Myra Gibson and Miss Lena Blackwood. Mr. and Mrs. Gibson left early in the afternoon by automobile for an extended trip which will include the Grand canyon, Yosemite and other points of interest, their ultimate destination being Greeley, Colorado, where Mr. Gibson has business interests. Upon their return they will reside at 204 Edgewood road, where the groom recently purchased a home, and where they will receive their friends after September 1.

Country Club Dance Enjoyed by Nearly Fifty Couples at Breeze Swept Club

Salt sea breezes, blowing off the bay, made the Country Club deligh-tfully cool last night for nearly a hundred dancers who were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Miller, hosts at the regular monthly dancing party.

Mrs. Miller had transformed the clubhouse into a golden bower by the lavish use of Scotch broom which stood out brilliantly against the brown background. Chapman's orchestra furnished the usual delightful music and a number of clever dancers were introduced.

Among the earlier ones of the evening was one where partners were found by matching colored sticks of candy much in the order of the once popular cotillion. A merry prize waltz which was also a "lady's choice" was won by Mrs. W. A.
Flood dancing with Clyde Cromer of Anaheim, a guest of Mr. and Mrs.
J. W. Tubbs. Mrs. Flood and Mr.
Cromer were most generous with their gift which was a great basket filled with delectable home-made candy—enough for a generous helping for all present.

The bi-monthly affairs of the Country club are assuming their place as delightful social functions and the pleasure of last night's dance is expected to be repeated at the card party to be given Thursday evening, June 29, with Mr. and Mrs.
C. V. Davis entertaining.

Guest from Colorado

One of the interesting visitors in Santa Ana is Miss Mary Daley, who recently arrived from her home in Denver, Colo., to be the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Daley, 1807 North Main street.

Miss Daley is a highly accomplished musician, having spent seven consecutive years in study in Leip-sic. She has one of the largest classes of advanced music students in Denver, having devoted her abilities to teaching in recent years. She will remain in Santa Ana for a month or longer.

Household Economics

With Mrs. Howard Wassum, Mrs.
R. E. Vincent and Mrs. Fred Stever as hostesses, members of the Fifth Household Economics section of Ebell club had a thoroughly delightful day at Orange county park, Tuesday.

At 1 o'clock, a delicious picnic luncheon was served under the great trees and the afternoon hours passed rapidly with social conversation in which summer plans were given chief importance.
Guests of the hospitable trip, included Mesdames Ota Haan, Edward Walker, Cora Cavins, Archie Herr, J. H. Warner, A. M. Lacy, E. B. Trago, Ray Townsend, Raymond Moncrief, Herman Reuter, C. V. Doty and E. B. Van Meter.

S. A. PIANIST GIVES CONCERT TO FOLK IN LOS ANGELES JAIL

The unique experience of playing to an audience of persons confined in the Los Angeles jail for various misdemeanors ranging from petit larceny to murder, befell Earl Fraser, well known Santa Ana pianist, recently, it was learned today. In company with Raymond Harmon, one of California's leading tenors, Fraser presented a program of songs and instrumental numbers Thursday afternoon, playing first in the section devoted to the women, where he had the experience of meeting Mad-alynne Obenchain, and later going down into the "tank" where nearly sixty "trusters" gathered around the piano and showed their lively appreciation of the concert, while those confined to the cells were no less appreciative. An earnest invitation was extended to the two men to return for a similar concert, Thursday afternoon June 29, and they are hoping to be able to do so.

Pretty Evening Wedding Followed by Honeymoon at Big Bear Lake

With only their relatives and closest personal friends present, Miss Pearl Pankey and R. L.
Loucks last night took their wedding vows at a charming ceremony at the home of the bride's father, H.
S. Pankey, 815 North Broadway.

The home was converted into a bower of pink and white with cut flowers used in profusion against a background of green ferns. Tiny white bells with Cecil Brunner rosebuds as clappers, hung in showers from the chandeliers while a huge wedding bell marked the spot where the ceremony was performed.

With Mrs. Myrtle Cain at the piano, Mrs. Neale beautifully sang
"Oh Promise Me." The accompaniment was then modulated into the strains of Lohengrin to which the bride entered, to take her place with the groom before the Rev. N.
T. Chapman who spoke the solemn words making them husband and wife. The Rev. Mr. Chapman is of Kansas City, Mo., and a close personal friend of the family.

After a honeymoon spent at the Pankey cottage at Big Bear lake, the popular young couple will be at home to their hosts of friends at their ranch near Tustin.

Cards Offer Diversion To Two Guest Groups at Smart Affairs

Whist on one afternoon and bridge on a succeeding day, offered pleasant diversion to two groups of guests of Mrs. J. G. Mitchell, who on Monday afternoon, June 12, and again yesterday afternoon, extended charming hospitality to her friends.

Yesterday afternoon, amid a setting of pink sweet peas, bridge was enjoyed with honors going to Mrs.
George Lester and Mrs. Lee M. Cassidy while Mrs. C. M. McClain received consolation.
At the close of the series of exciting games, Mrs. Mitchell assisted by her daughter, Miss Clarice Mitchell, decked the card tables with daily sweet peas in crystal bowls, and pretty individual nut cups harmonizing with the pink of the posies, and served a delicious two course menu of salad, sandwiches, cake, ices and coffee.

Guests on the happy occasion included Mesdames C. M. McCain, Cood Adams, J. A. Bermann, George
Lester, Lee M. Cassidy, H. H. Dale, William Ward, C. H. Lurker and her guest, Mrs. Brougham, E. Richards, Elmer A. Biggs, Vernon Bishop, W.
G. Knox, F. A. Jones, E. C. Erwin and J. A. Bond.

At the earlier affair, Mrs. Mitchell's guest list was largely made up of friends once residing in Minnesota. Chat of old home days, shared interest with whist during the afternoon, and the same charming decorations of sweet peas, in delicate pink, marked the floral appointments of the pretty home.

Mrs. W. C. Moore was awarded the prize for high score while consolation went to Mrs. G. E. Bruns. When the refreshment hour arrived, the delectable two-course menu was served in much the same manner as was yesterday's, with Miss Clarice Mitchell assisting her mother.

Guests included Mesdames Fred Stowe, Ella Stowe, Charles Getty, William Ward, A. Petrie, W. O.
Mitchell, Fred Bomboy, George Lester, J. A. Bond, G. E. Bruns, W. L.
Duggan, W. C. Moore, Cora B.
Cavins, and Miss Lillian Matson.

APPEALS REALTY FEE ROW CASE RULING HERE

Dissatisfied with Justice J. B. Cox's ruling that he must pay A. G. Diehl and H. J. Selway a realty commission of $212.50, J. B. Whitaker of Santa Ana today sought to upset the judgment through an appeal to the superior court.

Diehl and Selway brought suit in justice court against Whitaker for $262.50. According to testimony given at the trial recently, they had acted as agents in selling Whitaker's property to John Kelley. The initial payment on the transaction was too small to include the realty commission, so an agreement was made whereby Kelley assumed the obligation of the commission, giving his note to the agents for the amount. He was to be credited for the face of the note on his contract with Whitaker, it was stated.

Kelley paid $50 on the note and had paid approximately $400 to Whitaker when he allowed the property to revert to the latter.

Diehl and Selway then turned to Whitaker for their commission, but the latter refused to pay it, on the ground that Kelley had assumed the obligation under a mutual agreement.

On the ground that Whitaker had not credited Kelley with the amount represented by the note, on the contract between them, the court held that Whitaker was liable for the commission. Judgment was rendered accordingly, the sum of $50, which was paid by Kelley to the agents, being deducted from the award made to the plaintiffs.

GOVERNMENT HUNTER KILLS NOTORIOUS WOLF

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 16.—Another notorious wolf has been killed by a hunter of the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture. This wolf, while not so famous as the Custer, Bartlett, and other killers of the West, was nevertheless known more than locally as a very destructive animal. He is said to have ranged through Taney and Ozark counties, Mo., as well as in Boone and Marion counties, Ark., and to have destroyed many thousands of dollars worth of live stock, including full-grown cows and steers, during a period of at least six years.

Berkeley's building activities since first of January total $2,365,698.

OBJECT TO RED, WHITE AND BLUE OIL STATION

LA JOLLA, June 16.—When a new oil service station is erected at Prospect and Jenner streets in La Jolla by the Standard Oil company, the people of the community want it to be different from the standard red, white and blue station of the company. They want it to conform with the prevalent Spanish and Moorish architecture which is becoming La Jolla's most characteristic features.

This was the sentiment expressed at a meeting of the Civic league last week, after a request had been made of the oil company to consider deviation from its standard type of station by the president of the league. He reported that the San Diego officials of the Standard Oil company were impressed with the idea and had recommended it to the main office in San Francisco for final decision.

The station is to be placed on the site now occupied by the Buchanan chop house, which its proprietor plans to move to Pacific Beach when his lease expires on the ground some time this month.

PEGGY JOYCE GIVES ADVICE TO LOVELORN

(United Press Leased Wire)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—Peggy Hopkins Joyce today gave her advice to the "lovelorn."

The conductor of the "free advice" column on a San Francisco paper submitted to Peggy a series of questions taken from the morning mail.

"You answer them," the department conductor said.

Peggy did and here are her answers:

Question—Should a girl kiss a man before she is engaged to him?

Answer—Certainly. Absolutely.

Why shouldn't a girl kiss a man if she feels like it?

Question—Is there such a thing as love at first sight?

Answer—I should say so.

Question—Should young girls wear short skirts?

Answer—It depends upon the type of person wearing them. I wore them when they were in style.

Question—How old should a girl be before she accepts attentions from boys?

Answer—Not before she is 16, I should say, though it depends upon the mentality of the girl.

Question—Is a woman happier in a home or following a career?

Answer—All depends upon the woman, but a woman can't do both things. She can't be a wife and mother and also have a career.

Fresno—Preliminary plans made for development of $18,000,000 hydro-electric and irrigation project.

Eureka—Effort being made to secure $400,000 for jetty improvements.

SHRINERS CLOSE S. F. SESSION WITH PAGEANT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—The Shrine conclave, which has turned San Francisco "upside down" for the week ended early today in a glorious show of pageantry and a blaze of fireworks.

People counted by the hundreds of thousands—the greatest crowd San Francisco has seen since the days of the exposition in 1915—stood on boxes, barrels, chairs or just on sidewalks or sat in one of the 80,000 grandstand seats until midnight last night to see the pageant depicting the history of Masonry from the days of King Solomon pass by.

The crowd was as great a spectacle as the pageant itself. Until the small hours of the morning streets were jammed with people trying to work their way home through the throngs.

When daylight came the streets were a mass of deserted wooden boxes. Countless thousands were stacked in piles along the walks on Market street, while trucks were trying to gather them up. They had been "rented" last night at 50c per box to people who wanted something to stand on as the parade passed by. The Shriners were leaving today, by special and regular trains and at two shiploads will "shove off" for the Shrine excursion to Honolulu.

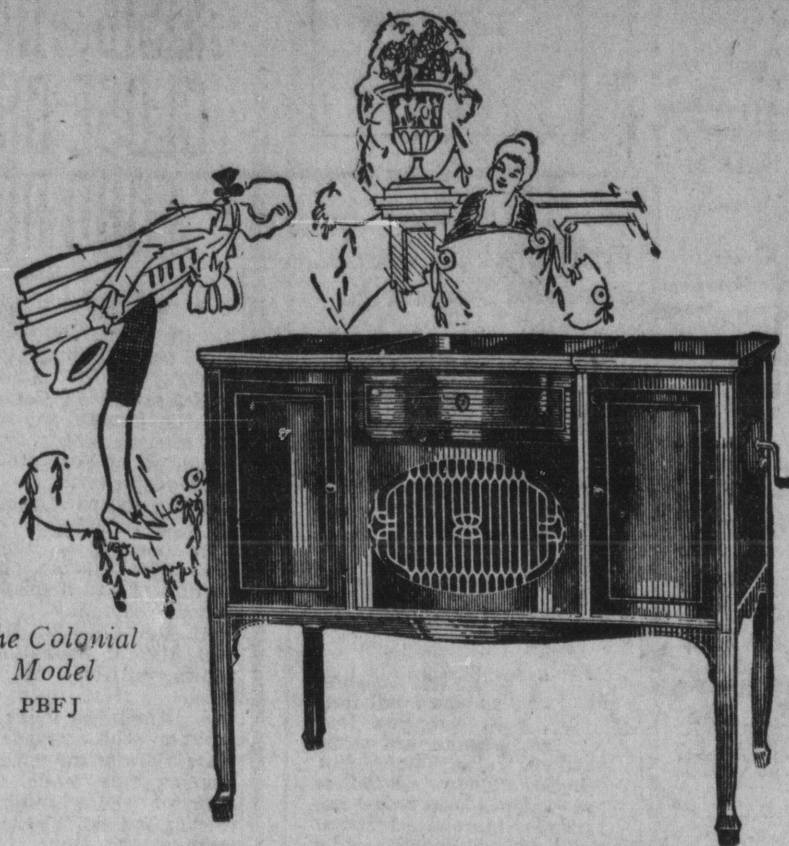

CHICO JOINS LASSEN PARK ASSOCIATION

CHICO, June 16.—Upon the recommendation of Mayor Sherman A. Reynolds and Trustee A. R. Waters, Chico became a member of the Lassen Park association, and a trustees' meeting.

It was pointed out by those interested that many of the cities in the state, and also cities in other states, were becoming members in the association. The membership fee of $50 will go to the fund for improvement of the volcanic park. As soon as it is possible, accommodations will be erected in the park and will be open to the general public during the summer months. A. G. Eames of Chico has taken keen interest in the development of the project and holds an individual membership in the association.

MUSIC, DANCING CLOSE ORANGE FORD RODEO

Musical concerts in the open air with a large and appreciative audience seated about the plaza and dancing at the American Legion headquarters at Campbell hall and at the garage and show rooms of the Mansur Motor company marked the close of Ford Rodeo day at Orange yesterday.

Eddie Pullen, famous racing driver, was surrounded by groups of men listening to his demonstration of a new Lincoln chassis in one portion of the display rooms of the Mansur company.

At the Colonial theater a two-reel film of educational value was shown, entitled, "A Visit to Henry Ford."

From the grandstand at the plaza the announcement of the prize winners was made. The announcement of the winning of the Ford touring car by Marie Thompson, an Orange high school youth, met with the joyous approval of the crowds.

The announcement was made that all those who entered the parades should go to the Orange Daily News office for information concerning the winners of prizes in both the morning and afternoon parades. The judges were Dr. J. D. Thomas of Olive, M. A. McCreery of Huntington Beach, and M. A. Fraser of Anaheim.

Many Cars in Parade
There were hundreds of cars of great beauty entered in the afternoon parade. Surprise was expressed at the small number of these that were decorated. Beauty adorned was truly adorned the most when the blood-red roadster driven by F. E. Hallman came along. The darling color and perfect lines of the handsome car brought forth much applause.

Orange business men today were receiving congratulations for the completeness and beauty of their decorations on all their delivery trucks and business cars. A truck laden with baled hay and topped with a bevy of handsome young women was admired, as was a truck filled with little tots dressed in dainty clothes.

Wedding Is Feature
The wedding advertised for was provided at a late hour in the afternoon, when Martin John Koepel, 21, and Rose Libbra, 19, came from Santa Ana to avail themselves of the gifts and offerings of the city of Orange to a couple who would have the ceremony performed in the plaza. The Rev. Harry Hill, pastor of the First Christian church of Orange, read the service.

Orders for everything from shoes to a coffee grinder were bestowed on the happy young couple. The bridal party consisted of the sister and brother-in-law of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Morton. With hundreds of interested spectators in the bleachers, on the field and in cars parked in convenient locations, contests for Ford cars only were held at the athletic field of the Orange Union high school, beginning at 1:30 o'clock, under the direction of C. E. Morrow, as a part of the Ford Rodeo day program.

Band Leads Caravan
The Automobile "Trades" association band, under the direction of C. C. Langley, led the caravan from the downtown district to the field and during the contests played several selections, leaving later to take part in the parade of automobiles, other than Fords, scheduled at 3 o'clock.

"Riding the rails" was the first event of the contest. The rails were 4 by 4 timbers, 100 feet long and the idea was that a Ford was to be driven over the rails in the shortest time possible, remaining all the while on the rails. There were nine contestants. The winner was R. F. Hill, of Orange; time, 7 seconds; second, Gerald Parsons; time, 9 seconds.

The tug-of-war between Ford cars operated by A. Miller and Bob Weeley, was won by Miller.

The Ladies' auxiliary of the Orange American Legion post donated 100 home-made pies to the Legion to be sold at the booth near the plaza, which was conducted under the supervision of Glenn Shoemaker. Other Legion activities were centered in a parking station, under the management of C. E. Potter, who was in charge of the Legion dance, where prizes in the form of Ford parts were distributed throughout the evening.

Women Operate Booth
The first department of the home economics section of the Women's club of Orange operated one booth near the plaza where hot foods and beverages were obtainable. Mrs. A. L. Leach was in charge. The second department operated a booth nearby where toys, balloons, ices and feed drinks were served under the supervision of Mrs. C. M. Porter, Mrs. Jack Davis, Mrs. George Lee and Mrs. Mulvane.

ADmits GUILT IN AUTO FELONY CASE

Pleading guilty to a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, Orth C. Chase, of Los Angeles, today applied for probation, when arraigned before Superior Judge Z. B. West.

Hearing on the application was set for June 23 at 9:30 a. m. Chase was represented in court by Attorney J. T. Lyon, who was appointed counsel for the defense.

Chase was the driver of an automobile which crashed into a Los Angeles newspaper truck near La Habra several days ago, injuring W. L. Carberry, driver of the truck, and E. Olson, who was riding with him. Although his car was wrecked, Chase escaped unhurt.

DENIES HE DROVE AUTO WHILE DRUNK

Trial of L. E. Henley, Huntington Beach oil worker, who is charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, will be set on or before next Friday at 9:30 a. m. It was decided today when Henley was arraigned before Superior Judge R. Y. Williams and answered not guilty to the charge.

The Friday date was set, on the understanding that if Henley's attorney, Albert Launer, of Fullerton, could arrange an earlier appearance, the trial date would be fixed then. Launer was not in court today, being represented by Attorney Clifford Allen, of Fullerton.

The charge against Henley grew out of his arrest on Seventeenth street, Huntington Beach, recently, after his car had figured in a collision near the viaduct at that point.

Henley's bail, $1,000, was reduced to $500 today and an effort would be made, it was said, to secure his release from jail, pending the trial.

MANY BOYS WIN FREE JULY 4 FIREWORKS

A good many freckled-faced boys, and some who are not freckle-faced, are guarding their Fourth of July fireworks today.

These youngsters seized on the opportunity given to them by The Register to earn their supply of celebration ammunition. All they had to do was to bring in the names of two new subscribers, each subscriber to pay one month in advance.

The earnestness with which the boys flew into the job was demonstrated yesterday when thirty-eight new subscriptions were turned in.

The offer still stands. Boys who want to glimpse the fireworks will find them on display in The Register window.

QUASH SUIT OF COUPLE IN ROW ON OPERATION

With their young daughter declared to be improving rapidly after a successful operation for tonsils and adenoids, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie E. Coppock, of Orange, today took their differences over care of their children out of the superior court, where Coppock had brought a suit for exclusive control.

Judge R. Y. Williams dismissed the suit when it came up for hearing today, after being suspended Monday to permit the operation.

Coppock had charged that his wife refused to allow the operation because of her religious belief. He declared that the daughter's health was endangered by an alleged diseased state of her tonsils and adenoids; also that her mental condition was affected.

In court Monday, Judge Williams issued an order permitting an examination of the girl by physicians, who stated that the diseased condition existed as claimed. One of the physicians was a brother of Mrs. Coppock, who, after hearing the report, agreed to the operation, which was duly performed.

With this controversy removed, the court declined to enter further into the question of control on the general issue presented. It was held that the law makes no choice between divergent views on care and treatment of children.

WIFE THEFT CASE MAN HERE VOWS LOVE

Plan to Drop Weapon Case at Beach

MAN LINKED TO EPISODE GIVES NOTE DETAILS

That the charge of assault with a deadly weapon against A. J. Young, known as the "potato king" of Huntington Beach, filed by Mrs. Young following an asserted episode on the Youngs' ranch in which, according to the authorities here, a young laundry driver, notes and shooting figured, probably would be dismissed for lack of evidence, was the statement made here today by A. P. Nelson, district attorney.

Young came to the district attorney's office Wednesday afternoon, it was said, to file a charge of abduction against Al Stephens, 23, driver for the Huntington Beach laundry. In the meantime, Mrs. Young had filed the deadly weapon charge at Huntington Beach and Young's arrest here followed. Later Young posted $1,000 bail which was fixed by Justice C. W. Warner of the beach city.

Suspects Notes, Claim
Young told the authorities here, they said, that he suspected an exchange of notes between his wife and Stephens and that he intercepted one as Mrs. Stephens was attempting, it was said, to pass it to the laundry driver in the folds of a newspaper. Young denied, however, the allegation that he had procured a revolver and shot at Mrs. Young and Stephens as they drove from the ranch in the laundry automobile.

When interviewed at Huntington Beach today, Stephens declared that his relations with Mrs. Young were entirely innocent.

"I often drove to their ranch to

900 SHRINERS OFF FOR HONOLULU TRIP

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—Amid much tooting of sirens, 900 members of the Mystic Shrine left San Francisco today for Honolulu.

They were on three steamers, the Nile, the H. F. Alexander and the Matsonia. The party was made up of Shriners from all parts of the United States.

The ships were gaily decorated as they steamed out of the harbor. Departure of the Honolulu excursionists marked the end of the Shrine convulse here.

REPORT TRIPLE MURDER

MIDDLETON, Tenn., June 16.—A triple murder mystery confronted police here today with the discovery of the bodies of a girl and girl and two young men near the Southern railway tracks, eleven miles east of here. Police identified the body of the girl as that of Velma Parker, 18, Chattanooga.

get and to deliver laundry," he said, "and I became well acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Young. She had told me that her husband was very harsh with her and that she liked to have someone to talk with."

Tells Note Incident

"Young seemed suspicious whenever I came on the property," Mrs. Young wrote me a note, he says, but it simply gave directions where she would meet me after that when I came for laundry. She passed it to me in a religious newspaper with the remark that there was something in the paper that I should read.

"Young seized it with a remark something like 'Now I've got you!' Then he entered the house and we figured that he was going after a gun. So Mrs. Young and I entered the laundry wagon and drove away. I heard Young fire at us."

BRITON IN PLAN TO REJOIN WOMAN IN ENGLAND, HE SAYS

"The only crime I committed was to have loved. I have no regrets; were I to start again, I would act in just the same way, even though the same penalty faced me."

Thus declared Cyril Lyons, of Sarnow, England, who today began to serve a sixty-day sentence in the Orange county jail because of a conviction in Los Angeles federal court of bringing an alien woman into the United States.

Lyons began his sojourn here with the cheerfulness which had characterized him throughout the proceedings at Los Angeles, when he was charged with having carried off the wife of another Englishman, John Dunham, of Piccadilly.

The Briton entered Orange county accompanied by the fanfare of publicity. Heralded in a Los Angeles newspaper today as "the monocular Englishman in the front seat of the ballyhoo bus, which conveyed seventeen federal prisoners to the Orange county jail," Lyons was described as wearing a top hat, spats and a Prince Albert coat. In fact, judging from the very vivid description of the trip, the Englishman was the life of the party.

Out-of-Door's Type

Today, in the jail here, he presented a different appearance. Clad in an open-necked flannel shirt, wearing dark trousers of conservative cut, but obvious quality, Cyril as he is already known among his fellow prisoners and the jail attaches, had more the appearance of an athlete—a man of the out-of-doors.

He was cheerful, this alien, far as he was from home, with the prospect of sixty days' confinement in the four walls of a cell, and then deportation. He possesses the almost perfect speech which is characteristic of his race.

Cyril Lyons and John Dunham were partners in business at Sarnow. Lyons became enamored of Dunham's pretty wife, and, accompanied by Mrs. Dunham's brother and her small child, they fled to this country.

Dunham traced them to the United States. He followed them on an overland journey to Los Angeles, and caused the arrest of Lyons on charges of violating the Mann act, of importing an alien woman, and of automobile stealing.

Is Fined $1,000.
The first and last charges were dropped, but a federal court convicted the accused on the importation charge, sentencing him to sixty days' confinement and a fine of $1,000.

"Mrs. Dunham is returning to her native land this week," Lyons stated, "Tomorrow I shall pay my fine. When my term is completed, August 14, I shall rejoin Mrs. Dunham in England."

Regarding the affair which caused his imprisonment, Lyons was reticent, although he talked willingly on all other subjects.

"It was a case of love. We both loved each other deeply. Because of that I prefer not to talk of that aspect."

"It was a misfortune that we were not acquainted with American laws. Our actions constituted no offense in England."

Then Cyril launched into a glowing tribute to Americans and to the West in particular.

"I have been delighted with everything as I have found it in the States," he exclaimed, his statement receiving droll emphasis by his peculiar accent.

Finds Yanks Courteous.
"When I was on the ship bound for New York, an American woman warned me that I should expect no courtesy from Americans. I am

ROSE PATH YOUTH'S DOWNFALL

"High Living" was apparently the magnet that attracted young Cecil Vaughn, of Long Beach, to the spurious check as a means of raising easy money, it was shown today in Superior Judge Z. B. West's court, where Vaughn made a clean breast of his activities and revealed the astonishing total of more than 40 such checks as his handiwork.

Although not sending the youthful offender to state's prison, Judge West refused probation and ordered Vaughn committed to the Preston school of industry, at Long Beach, until he is 21. Vaughn is then to be returned to the court for a further order.

Wearing a less conspicuous attire than that commonly ascribed to the "male flapper" type, which marked his previous appearance in court, Vaughn frankly told of his operations. He related the purchase of finery, jewelry or anything that caught his fancy, by means of an easily scribbled check.

His path was one of roses, uncommonly free from thorns, until he signed the name of his stepfather, J. H. Frahm, to a check passed on the McElfresh Mercantile company, at Huntington Beach. This led to his arrest and prosecution.

Attorney Charles D. Swanner represented Vaughn in court.

pleased to say that I have found it otherwise.

"All, including the authorities and my jailers, have behaved very kindly toward me. Even if I am deported, as I believe I shall be, I will carry with me pleasant memories of this country."

"On our transcontinental trip, we were impressed with the immensity of the country. It is unbelievable that Americans should choose to spend vacations abroad without first seeing all there is of their own country."

Cyril denies ever having worn a monocle or spats, and says that only on one occasion—the wedding of his brother—did he don a silk hat. Nevertheless, one receives the impression that he would look equally well in the garb mentioned, or in the costume of an explorer. He is of a thoroughly virile type which even a monocle could not spoil.

MISSING WOOLWINE LETTERS ARE FOUND

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—Missing communications to the county grand jury regarding the charge of Ida Wright Jones against District Attorney Woolwine turned up today just as duplicates were sent to replace them.

Foreman George said that the letters were found in a mail box that none of the jury employees knew was in use.

"It is improbable that the matter will be considered today as the jury has much to do," he said.

O. K. MARE ISLAND FUND.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—An appropriation of $2,800,000 for rebuilding dykes and maintenance dredging at Mare Island, Calif., was finally approved by the senate late today in the navy appropriations bill. An amount of $500,000 was made available immediately.

WOMAN DRIVES HORSE, BUGGY TO NEW S. A. AUTO GROUNDS

Old Dobbin may be down, but he certainly is not out. Proof of this statement is furnished by L. A. Ludwig, custodian of Santa Ana's modern auto park.

"The roads are alive with automobiles these days," said Ludwig, "and we don't see so much of Old Dobbin. Time was when hardy travelers thought nothing of driving a horse from Los Angeles to San Diego."

"The other day, however, Dobbin bobbed up serenely at the auto park. He was hitched to an old buggy and was driven by an old lady."

"She drove into the park about sunset and wanted to know if she could camp for the night. She had been driving all day, leaving Los Angeles in the morning, and was en route to San Diego. "I told her this was an auto camp, but she was very tired and I didn't feel disposed to turn her away."

"So we took her and Dobbin down to the far end of the camp, where they wouldn't be in the way of anyone, and made them comfortable. The old lady threw some blankets on the ground and slept as soundly as the sturdiest auto camper."

"The next morning she and Dobbin were up and stirring very early. A few minutes later they continued their long journey to San Diego. Dobbin was old, but spry, and looked like he had quite a 'kick' left. I think he must have been a thoroughbred."

RESEARCH PLAN IN GRADES OF CITY TO BE CONTINUED

Will Retain Psychological Tests With But Few Minor Changes

SYSTEM IS EXPLAINED

Grammar School Principals To Direct Work Here Next Year

Psychological research for the purpose of determining the mental aptitude of students has not been a failure in the Santa Ana public schools.

The system will not be eliminated. What changes that will be made in the policy in the educational institutions of the city next year will be brought about for the purpose of accomplishing a centralization of the system.

These, in general, were the answers made today by J. A. Cranston, superintendent of school, to rumors here that the board of education had decided that such research, for the purpose of establishing the mental grade of pupils, had been tried and found wanting.

The board of education has discussed the psychological research plan in executive session.

Further than that, F. L. Andrews, secretary of the board, declined to discuss the matter.

"Superintendent Cranston," Andrews said, "has charge of the plan and may make some changes."

Tests conducted in the grammar schools have had for their purpose the classification of students for the grades to which they are best adapted to qualify.

These, Cranston pointed out, have been listed as intelligence, psychological and pedagogical examinations. The intelligence tests, similar to those given recently in the United States army, serve to determine the general knowledge of a child along simple, present-day facts.

The pedagogical examinations are intended to divulge more minutely some of the special qualifications of the student.

The pedagogical plan is conducted with the view to analyzing the subject matter of the system. "We have no intention to eliminate the research system," Cranston declared. "A few changes will be made but the plan will be retained virtually as it was last year."

To Change System
"We have no intention to eliminate the research system," Cranston declared. "A few changes will be made but the plan will be retained virtually as it was last year."

To Change System
"Last year we had supervisors or directors of research at all of the public schools in Santa Ana, including the high school."

180,000 Mining Shares Figure In Suit Filed With Court Here

A huge block of stock in the Blue Light Silver Mining company, having its headquarters at Anaheim, was involved today in a court action instituted by C. S. Chapman, of Fullerton, who seeks to compel Tom Wilkinson, of Anaheim, to surrender 180,000 shares of mining stock.

Chapman's suit against Wilkinson was filed late yesterday in the superior court by Attorneys Marks and Launer, of Fullerton.

The action was based on a court judgment for $20,154.40, secured against Wilkinson by Chapman in a previous suit to recover on promissory notes.

Surrender of the mining stock now is demanded to satisfy the previous judgment. Wilkinson and the Blue Light company are made co-defendants in the suit.

TERMINATE FORGERY CASE AS ATTORNEY SHOWS LEGAL ERROR

Preparations to launch fresh proceedings against Carlos Silvas, charged with forgery, was under way today, the trial of Silvas having been abruptly terminated yesterday by dismissal of the charge, due to a technical error.

Near the end of the trial Judge Z. B. West granted Defense Attorney A. E. Koepsel's motion to dismiss the case, when Koepsel called attention to the fact that the information filed against Silvas by the district attorney dealt with one forged check, whereas Silvas was being prosecuted on account of a different check.

The court, in dismissing the charge, gave leave to the district attorney to file a new information, based on the check which figured in the preliminary proceedings against Silvas, as conducted in justice court.

Testimony in the case had been completed before Koepsel played his trump card, upsetting the prosecution.

GIRL IN IRVINE CAR CRASH MAY BE CRIPPLED

Fear that Miss Margaret Lloyd, 22, Casper, Wyoming, girl who was injured in an automobile wreck near Irvine recently, will be permanently crippled as a result of the accident, had been expressed today by her attorneys, who have been awaiting the outcome of her injuries before instituting contemplated court action against other principals in the affair.

Miss Lloyd not only sustained fractures of the hip and shoulder, but also suffered internal injuries which according to her attorneys, Z. B. West, Jr. and A. E. Koepsel, seem likely to leave a permanent effect.

Miss Lloyd and her sister, Helen, 17, have been at the Community hospital in this city since the accident. The latter has nearly recovered from

PINCHOT FRENCH PIRATE. REPLY IN POLY TEST

Hughes Held 'Also Ran' as Quiz On Events Brings Amusing Replies

A glance over the examination or questionnaire papers of Santa Ana High school pupils in a current events test, indicates that the young people get a smattering of everything that's going on in the world, but many of them do not seem to have very much thorough or accurate knowledge, in which they are not very unlike we children of more mature years.

On the other hand some of the papers would put many grown-ups to shame, so keen are their interpretations and so wide and accurate is their information.

Taking 50 of the papers having low grades, some amusing errors are noted.

Hughes Is Confused
Charles Evans Hughes is much better known as an "alsoran" than as Secretary of State. He is also better known as a former Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States than as the ranking member of President Harding's cabinet.

Perhaps 7 out of 10 who attempted to place Hughes said, "He ran for President," or "was candidate for President against Wilson." Several said "he ran against" other successful and unsuccessful candidates.

Calvin Coolidge was not known to many as vice-president. One thought he was "to be president if Cox had been elected."

Pinchot French Pirate
The biggest joke of all was on Geford Pinchot, who was said to be a French pirate.

Samuel Gompers would be surprised to hear that he was "the doctor who cured Panama canal diseases," and Gov. Gen. Wood no doubt be equally surprised to learn that "the Philippines lie southeast of Florida."

Taft was quite generally known to have been president of the United States, but very few had any knowledge of his present position as chief justice.

Hoover Well Known
Hoover seems to be better known to the boys and girls than any other man mentioned in the questionnaire. While many made no attempt to tell who and what many other great men were, nearly all made a try at Hoover—and most of the tries were pretty good.

A very large proportion of the answers credited Lloyd George with being King of England—a few said he was President of England—not so far off at that.

Clarenceau was quite generally thought to be president of France. Evidently without making any distinction between politician and statesman, one said he was a French politician.

Of the few who knew anything about Poincaré, only one could spell his name correctly.

What Variety of Hootch Makes Cetrain Kinds of 'Jags' Plain to 'Cop'

Introducing the modern Sherlock Holmes of the anti-hootch hound brigade.

He is none other than Joel Wilson, recently appointed as a special officer by the city of Newport Beach to wage war on bootleggers at Balboa.

Wilson says he can take one little squirt at a person conveying a beautiful bacchanalian bun and announce at once with unerring accuracy just what variety of buoyant beverage brought about the state of beatific boozefulsness.

Whether it is Jamaica ginger, or hair tonic, or just ordinary hootch, it is all plain to Wilson, he says, adding that experience does the trick.

Wilson arrested eight men for alleged disorderly conduct last Saturday night and "invited" a few others to leave Balboa the next day.

"There will be nothing doing in the hootch line soon," he said.

INDEMNITY COMPANY ASKS $375 DAMAGES IN AUTO COLLISION

The sum of $375.55 was asked as damages against the Motor Transit company, operating stages between this city and Los Angeles, in a suit filed by the Automobile Indemnity exchange of Orange county, it was shown today.

A collision between a stage and a machine belonging to the Anaheim Sugar company, half a mile north of Anaheim, on February 28 last, gave origin to the court case. The sugar company car was protected by an insurance policy issued by the indemnity exchange.

Attorneys Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus filed action for the plaintiff.

PULLEN TO DARE DEATH AGAIN ON SPEEDWAY

Eddie Pullen is to return to the racing game.

He made the statement to a Register reporter yesterday at the Ford rodeo at Orange, where he was the center of admiring groups throughout the day and far into the night.

"A $10,000 racing car is now being built for me," said Pullen. "It is to be finished by fall when I plan to return to the speedway. I fully expect to take part in various racing activities in Southern California in the coming season."

Pullen, who is the manager of the Hassler-Pacific company, with headquarters in Los Angeles, was enthusiastic over the Ford Rodeo day. He believed it would be of inestimable advertising value to Orange.

"I was scheduled to go to Arizona on a business trip June 12," he declared, "but when I learned of the Ford Rodeo, I postponed my trip in order to be at Orange as the guest of Stanley Mansur, of the Ford and Lincoln agency."

"The number of entries in the Ford parade, the spirit in which the citizens of Orange, in particular, entered into the enterprise calls for unstinted praise. It is due them, and I feel if this is made an annual event, Orange and Orange county will derive a great deal of benefit from it."

Throughout the evening Pullen demonstrated the Lincoln chassis in the show rooms of the Mansur Motor company.

BRINGS DAMAGE SUIT AFTER CAR COLLISION

Another echo of a collision between cars driven by C. E. Forester, Santa Ana, and Leonard Kelley, Fullerton, which took place in this city last September and as a result of which Kelley is now on probation for having failed to render aid after the accident, was heard today in Justice J. B. Cox's court, where Forester had on file a suit for $100 damages against James K. Foyle, of Fullerton. Foyle was owner of the car driven by Kelley at the time of the accident.

AUTOS IN CRASH
A car driven by D. W. Sturgeon, 430 South Birch street, was damaged in collision with a car driven by Dr. Maynard, of Orange, according to a report on file today at the sheriff's office. The collision took place late yesterday at Fourth and Birch streets.

FIDO OBJECTIVE OF BIG DRIVE OF BIG DRIVE NEXT MONDAY

Dog Population of City On Its Mark as Man With Trailer Gets Ready

The dog population of Santa Ana today "got on its marks."

F. W. Faucett, recently appointed city poundkeeper, and his two assistants, completed their training siege and prepared to don their "track" suits.

W. W. Chandler, city sanitary inspector, raised his dog tag to start the great race.

He is holding all stakes. Dogs are eliminated from the contest at the rate of $2 for males and $3 for females.

Faucett and his fellow sprinters, backed by the city of Santa Ana, are favorites.

For the new city dog ordinance is in effect.

The provisions of the measure call for the registration of every canine in the corporate limits of Santa Ana.

Pup Population Growing
Chandler has received 800 dog tags and expects to have to order more. The mongrel citizenship is growing, he said.

With his automobile equipped with a trailer containing a screen cage, Poundkeeper Faucett will begin his duties next Monday morning.

His program at the outset of the campaign, according to Chandler, will be to call at houses where dogs reside and collect for the privilege of living here.

Owners of the pets will be forced to pay the tax or see their dogs make a journey in Faucett's "Pull-man."

"Owners of dogs may expedite matters by coming to the sanitary inspector's office and paying for their dogs' tags," Chandler said today. "This will save time and any trouble that may result from persons who do not care to see their pets hauled away."

Good Until 1923
The tags have a life from June 1, 1922, to June 1, 1923.

Whether by reason of pity for the dog or respect for the owner, Santa Ana's enforcement of its dog-catching ordinances seldom has been strenuous, it was stated today.

If Fido's owner happened to be conscientious, Fido would have a tag to wear, but if Fido's owner failed to get a tag, the dog could run the streets without fear of the pound. At least, that was the opinion gathered at the city hall from a cursory review of dog history.

It was recalled that there was one year when the taking of unlicensed dogs became a regular business. That was in 1908. It seems to have been a good year for dogs for the authorities decided that it was time to make a clean-up on curs and their pedigreed cousins.

Used City Methods
A professional dog-catcher from Los Angeles was hired to conduct the clean-up. He introduced city methods in handling the small town tag to wear, but if Fido's owner failed to get a tag, the dog could run the streets without fear of the pound. At least, that was the opinion gathered at the city hall from a cursory review of dog history.

The license fee was $2. Three days were given in which to redeem a tag, and the redemption fee, including the license, was $3. If, at the end of three days, nobody had taken an interest in the fate of the captured dog—at least, a $3 interest—the dog was given enough gas to send him to the happy hunting ground.

The manner of capturing the dogs was declared by many to be cruel, ruthless and terrifying.

Used Strong Language
Many a dog's owner irately used strong language to the dog-catchers who were quite diligent. The dog-catchers would net a licensed dog as quickly as they would any other kind and bind the frightened canine to earth until they had examined his collar and made sure he was not of a centraband variety.

Nobody ever did know who did it, but one night somebody broke into the barn where the dog-catcher kept his outfit. The intruder slashed the net to pieces. Without doubt the act was one of resentment.

There was a citywide "holler" raised because of the ruthlessness with which the dog-catching business was conducted. Thereafter dog-catching was managed with less occasion for demonstration of objection, it was said.

For a time the city trustees put dog-licensing in the hands of the city assessor. Dogs were counted during assessment, and the fee was made a part of the tax bill.

SEEKS TO QUIET TITLE

SCHOOLS OFFICE BUILDING WORK TO BE RUSHED

Construction work will start next Monday on the school administration building to be erected on Sycamore street just north of the Sloyd building at Sycamore and Church streets. It was announced today.

Bowman and Freble, to whom was awarded the contract, have taken out the permit and today completed arrangements to begin building operations Monday.

The National Construction company, successful bidders for the East Fourth street and South Flower street grammar school buildings, were rushing plans today to get work under way at the earliest possible date. It was said to be possible that the building operations would be begun next week.

INDIANAPOLIS RACE CAR SEEN AT RODEO

Auto racing bugs got a real treat at the Orange Ford rodeo yesterday.

Not only was Eddie Pullen, hero of dozens of speed duels in past years, present but also the blood-red car that "Howdy" Wilcox piloted to a win in the Indianapolis 500 mile speed classic March 9, was driven in the afternoon parade.

The car was handled by F. E. Hallman.

SEEK TO FORECLOSE ON 2 LOTS AT BEACH

Foreclosure of two lots at Huntington Beach was sought today in a petition on file in the superior court on behalf of H. T. Hughes and directed against Lena and Charles Marcellas.

The mortgage was alleged to have been given as security for an $800 note, executed by Mr. and Mrs. Marcellas to J. W. Wartaby and assigned to the plaintiff. Wartaby is also a defendant in the action, which was filed through Attorney Ben E. Tarver.

HEAD ASKS, WHY CHARTER? CITY AFFAIRS BODY CHIEF GIVES HIS REPLY

Foe of Movement Asks How Civic Improvement Is Being Retarded

WELLINGTON RESPONDS

Lack of Sufficient Funds Big Factor In Holding Back S. A., Claim

"Editor Register:—

"There appears to be in preparation a 'drive' for another city charter election. A large number of the taxpayers and voters of the city would be pleased if the steering committee would be much more specific than the mere expression of their opinion that civic development is being retarded by lack of a charter.

"In what particulars is civic improvement being so retarded? 'Exactly what could be done under a charter that cannot be done now, other than to fix a higher tax rate and spend more money?

"Why the urgency of another charter election before the municipal election next year?

"There can be no legal necessity for a change in our form of government before the next federal census. A large amount of money is required for a charter election, and we cannot afford the expense on the mere hope that any change would be an improvement.

"H. C. HEAD."

H. C. Head, local attorney, today issued a statement in which he directed certain questions to the civics affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce, relative to recommendations of the committee that steps be taken again to submit for approval of the voters of this city a charter form of government. He asks the committee for more specific statement of facts in connection with its opinion that the city's development is being retarded by the lack of a charter.

"In what particular is civic improvement being retarded?" asks the attorney.

At the same time, M. B. Wellington, of the law firm of Bishop and Wellington and chairman of the civics affairs committee, disclosed the reasons advanced by the committee for its recommendations and the assertion that the city is not making the progress that it would make were it operating under the charter form of government.

"Our observations and investigations disclosed that the growth and expansion of the city is being held up because the city council has insufficient funds to operate its various departments in the manner in which they should be conducted.

Preparations were being made today for mailing to each adult subscriber to the Y. M. C. A. building fund a ballot containing the names of thirty men who have been nominated for directors of the building activity.

Fifteen directors will be chosen from the list.

The subscribers are asked to indicate their preference and to mail the ballot back to the committee.

Envelopes were being addressed today to about 2000 contributors. It was said to be possible that the ballots would go forward tomorrow.

A letter, according to E. B. Sprague, treasurer of the general committee, will be enclosed with the ballot acknowledging the contribution each individual and expressing the appreciation of the general committee for the support given the building project.

S. Hunt, 1539 South Garey avenue. R. B. Eason, poultry extension specialist of the State College of Agriculture, will cooperate with Assistant Farm Advisor Gordon in conducting these demonstrations.

LOS ANGELES—The York-Call Construction company, manufacturers of ice-making machinery, has taken a five-year lease on the new building recently finished at Santa Fe avenue and East Fifth street. Equipment is now being moved into the new structure, and it is expected that manufacturing activity will begin in a few weeks. The local company also is located at 308 Boyd street.

PERIS—Announcement has been received from County Horticultural Commissioner Bottell that a cotton quarantine convention will be held in Riverside in July, the exact date to be fixed later. Boll weevil control and other matters will come before the convention.

VENTURA—At an enthusiastic meeting the Camarillo farm bureau center was organized. The Camarillo and Somis centers have been consolidated, taking in Santa Rosa valley, Newbury park and all surrounding territory. Over 100 members have now joined and the membership committee has not fully covered the territory.

RIVERSIDE—Riverside local No. 254, of the International Typographical union elected the following officers for the coming year: Archie Hahn, president; J. L. Announcement has been made that the Current Events section of the Ebell club will dispense with the accustomed June meeting and will have no further section meetings until September brings the opening of the club season.

B'nai Braith

The Ladies' Auxiliary of B'nai Braith held its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at Laurence hall, with a full attendance of the membership. Following reading of the minutes, two new members were initiated after which a pleasant social afternoon was spent, during which time refreshments were served.

Legion Auxiliary

Preceding the regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary at the armory, Tuesday afternoon, June 20, will be a meeting of the executive board of the auxiliary which will go into business session at 1:45 p. m.

Members of the organization are still making an urgent plea for articles of clothing for disabled and needy veterans and their families. It has been discovered since the first plea was made, that clothing of almost all descriptions can be used, as so many of the ailing veterans of the World War have little children dependent upon them.

Anyone having garments for men's wear or clothing for women or children will aid in a splendid cause by leaving such articles with Dr. Perry Magill at her office in the Rowley building, from where they will be distributed by Mrs. W. H. Thomas.

Household Economics

Since the pretty breakfast enjoyed recently by members of the Second Household Economics section of the Ebell club chanced to fall on Flag Day, the flag motif was apparent in all the decorations used by the trio of hostesses, Mrs. George Briggs, Mrs. M. A. Patton and Mrs. J. Fred Parsons.

Mrs. Briggs opened her home at 644 North Broadway for the affair, and an appetizing breakfast menu of fruit cocktail, crisply fried bacon with scrambled eggs, toast, apple butter and coffee was enjoyed by seventeen section members. Tiny silken flags were used as favors.

Appropriately enough, the program following the breakfast, offered a paper on "American Citizenship" by Dr. Rufus Von Kleinsmid which was read by Mrs. W. L. Deimling. Later the presence of John L. Collins of the Collins Nursery gave the members the privilege of hearing an illuminating talk on flowers and plants, their care and culture. How to make ferns grow and how to rid gardens of slugs were only two of the many interesting items of information gleaned from the talk.

Missionary Society

Among interesting facts brought out in regard to the work of the Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church at the recent meeting with Mrs. P. R. Reynolds, 720 Bush street, was the report by the treasurer, Mrs. E. B. Smith, that the society's allotment of funds to be given during the first quarter, had been overmet.

The session opened with prayer offered by the president, Mrs. H. A. Allen and touching devotionals, and during the business session following, Mrs. A. M. McDermott, secretary of stewardship, gave a most interesting talk. Mrs. O. L. Halsell announced a young people's conference to be held at Occidental college August 23 and 24 and the society voted to assume the expenses of one of the delegates to be in attendance from the church.

An interesting part of the afternoon dealt with missionary affairs in which Miss Grace Rowley is interested at Weihien, China. Letters read by her mother, Mrs. A. R. Rowley, contained accounts of gathering of over 500 Chinese women in the missionary compound of that city, where many aged women of 80 years or older, had walked fifty miles on their poor, bound and crippled feet, to attend. Many of these submitted to being shown how to unbind their feet with the least degree of pain, and interest expressed in Christianity and its methods was intense.

Miss Rowley was delighted to have as her guest at the time Miss Evelyn Nunn, a former Santa Ana girl, now in Japan, and planning soon to leave for Switzerland to pursue her art studies, preparatory to teaching in Japan.

Mrs. R. J. Blea read interesting letters from Mrs. Waller of Los Angeles, now making a tour of India and the missionary stations of that country.

Mrs. C. E. Buxton and Mrs. C. F. Smith outlined conditions in Porto Rico and San Domingo, after which Mrs. J. A. Stevenson spoke feelingly of her sixteen years' association with the church and society, adding cheering words for the future. Miss Louise Montgomery sang beautifully to the accompaniment of Miss Ruth Armstrong, after which appetizing refreshments were served by Mrs. Reynolds and her hostess committee.

JAIL WOMAN AT BEACH CITY AS BOOTLEGGER

Mrs. Katherine Stewart of Huntington Beach was in the county jail here today serving a sentence of ninety days, following her hearing before Justice C. W. Warner at the beach city on a liquor selling charge, to which she pleaded guilty.

Mrs. Stewart also was fined $300 but told Justice Warner that she would have to serve out the amount as she did not have any money.

She was arrested by City Marshal Jack Tinsley of Huntington Beach after she had sold liquor, it was charged, to several deputies sent to her house on Second avenue.

Mrs. Stewart formerly conducted a doughnut shop at Olive and Main streets, Huntington Beach.

The celebration will be called the harvest festival. An extensive publicity campaign will be carried out by the committee in charge during the next three months.

2 COUNTIES TO ACT TOGETHER ON DRAINAGE

Los Angeles and Orange counties will probably co-operate in drainage and water conservation problems.

This was learned here today, following the return of President J. R. Schofield and Secretary R. D. Flaherty of the Orange county farm bureau from Los Angeles, where they attended a meeting of the Los Angeles county farm bureau yesterday.

The discussion of plans for draining a 10,000-acre region near Artesia and Downey was heard with interest by the local men, since Buena Park and Cypress are affected by the same conditions.

In this connection it was recalled that the two Orange county communities failed to pass bonds for drainage when the issue came up about a year ago. It was hoped, Flaherty said, that the action of the neighboring county might encourage the residents of Orange county to action.

The water conservation problem in the San Gabriel valley, which is occupying the attention of the Los Angeles body, and for which $50,000 was appropriated by the board of supervisors there, has direct bearing on Buena Park and Cypress, according to Flaherty.

The underground water supply of these districts is affected by the flood conditions of the San Gabriel river.

At yesterday's meeting it was agreed to give Orange county two representatives on the governing board of the combined water conservation committees of Los Angeles county.

CHARTER'S MOVE PROS AND CONS DISCUSSED

ance, and enlargements sorely needed to meet the growing demands are not available as readily as they should be," said Wellington today.

"I am informed that the council is constantly besieged with the requests for extension of city services that are imperative and yet cannot be granted because of the lack of funds.

"Recent subdivisions in the city have called for water and sewer service that is beyond the financial capacity of the city.

"Our streets are going to pieces—insufficient funds to make repairs at the time they are needed, is the story. Several sections of the city are clamoring for ornamental lighting systems. The property owners are willing to bear the expense.

No Funds Available.

"The city has no funds with which to pay the light bill. I am told that it is now paying the Edison company approximately $1400 a month for street and city lights, approximately $500 of the amount being paid for the current supplied the Main street ornamental system. Property owners who pay for installation of such lights do not feel that they should be called upon to pay for the current also, when the entire city benefits by the introduction of a system in any section of the city.

"Had the voters approved the bond issue recently voted in the city, providing for a fire hall in the east part of the city, funds would not have been available for hiring men to man the hall, I am informed.

"These are just a few of what I understand are many instances that might be cited as concrete facts showing that the development of the city is being retarded."

"Exactly what could be done under a charter that cannot be done now, other than to fix a higher tax rate and spend more money?" asks Head.

Continuing, he asks:

Asks "Why Urgency."

"Why the urgency of another charter election before the municipal election next year? There can be no legal necessity for a change in our form of government before the next federal census. A large amount of money is required for a charter election and we cannot afford the expense on the mere hope that any change would be an improvement."

"The committee did not urge immediate submission of the charter to a vote and it is possible that it could be deferred to the regular election and that thus the expense of a special election could be avoided," Wellington said in response.

"The committee recommended that steps be taken at once to develop a charter. That is a long drawn out process and it will take time to develop one, unless the charter prepared by a board of freeholders some months ago should again be submitted.

Would Increase Revenue.

"One of the most important things we could accomplish under a charter form of government would be to place machinery at the disposal of our city council for increasing the tax revenue of the city without particularly increasing the cost of its production.

"We could continue to have the

PASTOR'S TRIAL IN DEATH CASE NEARS CLOSE

(United Press Leased Wire)

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va., June 16.—Testimony in the second trial, growing out of the march of armed miners in Logan county last summer will be concluded Saturday evening if the attorneys defending Rev. James Wilburn from a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of Deputy Sheriff John Gore succeed in their plans.

There are fifteen witnesses left of the army marshalled by the defense and the attorneys said today they would finish with the last one by noon tomorrow. The defense concentrated its efforts on showing that Wilburn did not participate in the firing which resulted in Gore's death.

So far the defense has confined itself to proving the agitation and fear of attack by operators' forces prevailing among the miners and their families. This is designed to show the Wilburn party fired in self defense.

Defense attorneys were refused permission by the court to describe to the jury the mine guard system. The court held that this would not throw any light on Wilburn's personal state of mind.

S. A. MAN TO WATCH FOR FIRES IN HILLS

Donald Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Anderson, 501 Wellington avenue, is to be the forest service lookout on Santiago peak this summer, it was announced today.

Anderson is a student in forestry at the Oregon Agricultural college. He is to go to the lookout station next week, and will remain there throughout the summer. His duty is to keep a sharp lookout for fire. The appearance of smoke will call for an immediate report by him to firefighting leaders in Orange and Riverside counties.

Arrangements for Anderson's employment were made this week by Forest Ranger H. I. Snider, of Corona.

FOOD PRICES SHOW RAISE IN 15 CITIES

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Retail food prices increased in fifteen cities and decreased slightly in ten others from April 15 to May 15, according to compilations made public by the department of labor involving twenty-five of the principal cities of the country.

The following increases were noted: Richmond, Va., 2 per cent; Milwaukee, Cincinnati, Seattle, and St. Louis and Washington, D. C., 1 per cent, and Chicago and Omaha, less than five-tenths of 1 per cent. Decreases noted were in Kansas City, Providence, Rochester, 1 per cent, and in Detroit and New York, less than five-tenths of 1 per cent.

Comparisons of average food costs in 1913, with the prevailing prices asked during the month, the department stated, indicated housewives were paying 53 per cent more for food in Richmond, Va., 49 per cent in Washington, D. C., and 44 per cent in Baltimore and Birmingham, Ala.

City assessing and tax collecting done by the county, and increase our tax rate without pushing the assessed valuation as high as would be necessary under the present method to produce the money needed for operation of the city.

"The fact that we have to create assessment districts for rebuilding pavements, and largely because the city cannot employ a force sufficient to make repairs when a break is discovered, creates an extra tax burden on our people.

"A charter would provide the council with a system by which the various city offices could be coordinated, with a result that would effect a big savings in the expenses of the city. Unquestionably, it is in the minds of all of us that the men who are handling the city affairs under the present method are doing the very best they can under the organization they have.

Sees Big Saving.

"If we could organize city purchasing much as the county has done, we could save thousands of dollars annually. In short, the employment of a city manager would effect changes and bring about savings that would have a decided bearing on the operations of the city and the results obtained from the expenditure of city funds.

"Supervision of the employment of city help with authority to transfer casual labor from one department to the other, in the interest of securing the greatest service possible from help, would be a feature that in itself would be productive of a saving.

"City manager supervision eliminates the loss of time and the overlapping of city departments, a situation that it is acknowledged now exists.

"When the people waken to the fact that they are paying out money on special assessments and bonds for street improvements in excess of what would be used by a more equitable rate of taxation, they will demand a charter."

WORMS COMMIT SUICIDE: BEAN CROP AIDED

The warm weather has caused an epidemic of suicide in Orange county.

Thousands of cut worms have shuffled off this mortal coil during the past few days, it was stated here today.

The worms can't bear the warm spell, it was declared, so they just simply turn up their toes and decide to base out.

All of which, it was pointed out, is beneficial in the lima bean and blackeye bean fields of the county.

In many of the fields the stand of beans was declared to have been considerably reduced through the activities of the pernicious cut worm.

Bean men of this county are expecting new crop limas to bring good prices, for the old crop is sold out.

A report from Ventura county was to the effect that independent buyers and the California Lima Bean Growers' association had recently sold quantities of futures at $6.25 to $6.50 and even higher.

U. C. OFFERS NEW FORESTRY COURSE

BERKELEY, June 16.—That the University of California anticipates an early and great expansion of the lumbering industry in California and that the lumbermen will, in not many years, embark on the practice of forestry on their lands, is indicated in a bulletin just issued from the University entitled "Announcement of Courses in Forestry."

The attractively illustrated 40-page booklet typifies the work of instruction at Berkeley and the summer forestry camp in Plumas county. The booklet describes the aims and facilities of the division of forestry in which is centered the work of instruction in forestry, lumbering and grazing. It also calls attention to the field open to properly prepared men in the purely forestry profession, the lumbering industry and the grazing and livestock industry.

A suggested program of study of preparatory and allied subjects is presented as a guide to students who wish to prepare themselves for either forestry, the lumber industry, or the grazing and livestock industry. Anyone interested in the "Announcement of Courses in Forestry" may obtain a copy upon application to the Division of Forestry of the University of California, Berkeley.

NOTED DESIGNER TO LECTURE AT COLLEGE

BERKELEY, June 16.—John Joseph Donovan, an architect of the bay district who has distinguished himself in the designing of some of the show places of Oakland and vicinity, will give a course entitled "The Practical Side of School House Planning" during the summer session of the University of California.

This course is intended for school executives, superintendents, principals, teachers preparing for administrative work and others interested in the problems of school building. Lectures, discussions, stereopticon views and films of the important details of school building will be used in presenting the problems.

RAZING OF CAPITAL LANDMARK BEGINS

SACRAMENTO, June 16.—Workmen have started tearing down the pavilion at Sixth and M streets, one of Sacramento's oldest landmarks. The property has been condemned by the city building inspector. Built in the early days of Sacramento, the structure was for years the social center of the city. Later it was used as an athletic hall, dance hall, skating rink and more recently as a stable.

At least fifty previous efforts to have the building razed as a fire hazard were fruitless.

ANNOUNCEMENT---

The McDuffie Realty Company announces that on Sunday, June 18th, at 12:30 P. M. there will be held a BIG BARBECUE to celebrate the spudding-in of the Mills No. 1 well, located on the Booth Avacado tract on SIGNAL HILL.

All purchasers in this and other tracts are cordially invited to attend and bring their friends. We are anticipating a large crowd and all those desiring to attend and unable to furnish their own conveyance will do us a favor by advising us of their intention to go at as early a date as possible. Transportation will be furnished for everyone, but we must know in advance how many to prepare for.

This invitation is not limited to past purchasers but includes all who desire to see and hear the marvelous development of California's greatest oil field.

CONGRATULATIONS

The John P. Mills Organization, through the McDuffie Realty Co., local representatives, wishes to heartily congratulate all those who have purchased oil lands on the North slope of Signal Hill from us. This section of this famous field is proving to be much more remarkable than we anticipated, as is shown by the fact that the average production per well on the North Slope is approximately 2,000 barrels per day.

WARNING! DO NOT SELL. Anyone thinking of disposing of any unit bought from this company should come to this office and get full information before disposing of property. Remember that all the property we have sold is located in the heaviest producing section of the greatest oil field of all time. Every foot of the eight tracts sold by us is now PROVEN OIL LAND.

INTEREST KEEN IN OUTING OF COUNTY 'Y'

With the general direction of camp activities in charge of George S. Chessum, and with active preparations now being made, scores of Santa Ana and Orange county boys today were looking forward with lively interest to the annual outing of the Y. M. C. A., scheduled for Catalina island from June 30 to July 10.

According to announcement made today by "Y" officials here, a total of 105 boys can be accommodated in the Camp Wikke outing, to be held at White's Landing, Catalina. The appointments are as follows:

Santa Ana, thirty boys; Orange, twenty; Anaheim, twenty; Fullerton, twenty; coast district, fifteen.
Reservations are coming in rapidly,
Y. M. C. A. officers said today, and boys who are thinking of joining the big family were urged to check early with the secretary, or other leaders, in order to be sure of a place.

Ideal Camping Place White's Landing, said to be an ideal camping place for boys, is located just around the point from Moonstone Beach. The Pasadena Y. M. C. A., under the terms of lease, is opening the camp for the summer. Much new equipment has been added.

The program, according to Chessum, will include plenty of wholesome activity, well balanced as to physical, mental, social and religious values. The chief aim is character-building.

The program, starting at 6:15 a.
m. daily, includes reveille, setting-up exercises, flag-raising, breakfast, group Bible study followed by chapel, inspection, athletics, nature study, morning swim, dinner, rest period, hikes, games, fishing, afternoon swim, supper, camp fires, taps, and nine hours sleep.

The rag system, used in camps throughout California and other states, will be the basis for camp honors.

Tell Rag Awards
The blue rag, or first degree, is awarded boys who, by their all-around achievements, are deemed worthy of that honor by camp leaders. The brown rag and the red rag, known as the second and third degrees, respectively, may be won at succeeding camps. Only one degree is awarded a boy during a season.

Assisting Chessum in the management of the camp will be C. E.
Monrow, Orange; A. J. Raitt, Fullerton;
T. P. McKee, Santa Ana; and a tried Christian leader for every group of seven boys.

Any boy, whether a member of the "Y" clubs or not, may attend the outings on filing the necessary application with Y. M. C. A. officials.

SHORTRIDGE TO BE HONORED WITH DEGREE

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Senator Shortridge was advised by the National University Law School that he will have conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Laws at the commencement exercises when he will deliver the address.

The National University Law school is one of the largest law universities in Washington.
Senator Shortridge is not a university graduate. At the time of life when most boys were enjoying a college education, he was working as a blacksmith in Nevada county.
Later he enlarged his education by teaching in Napa county schools.

S. A. HIGH GRADUATE GOLD MEDAL WINNER AT U. OF S. C., WORD

A gold medal for excellence in scholarship was awarded yesterday at the University of Southern California commencement exercises to Raymond Beebe, a graduate of Santa Ana high school with the class of 1915, it was learned here today. Beebe is a graduate of the dental department of U. S. C. His home is now in Los Angeles.

Among Orange county residents who yesterday completed their courses at U. S. C. are George Parker, Paul Bruns and Darius Johnson, all of Santa Ana, graduating in the law department, and Miss Doris Wells, Santa Ana, graduating in the liberal arts department.

George Parker is to enter the employ of the Orange County Title company, of which his father, C. E.
Parker, is president.

WILL GIVE TEST FOR U. C. HERE NEXT MONDAY

and graduates of the Santa Ana high school desiring to enter the University of California, either at Berkeley or the Southern Branch at Los Angeles, will have an opportunity to take the examination in Subject A at the Santa Ana high school next Monday at 9 a. m. according to announcement made today by D. K. Hammond, principal.

This will be the first time that Santa Ana students have had the opportunity to take the examination here.

The test will be in English and is required of all students entering the university. Heretofore it has been given only at the university. It is designed to test the ability of students in dictation, spelling, punctuation, and other subjects.

The examination will require about three hours, it was stated, and will be under the direction of Mrs. Robert Northcross, English instructor at the Junior college.

Examination papers will be sent to the university for correction.
The test is open to all students, regardless of whether they intend entering the university, and is arranged for those who have had three years of English in high school.

SUSPECT MANIAC AS MARSHAL LOSES GUN

CHEYENNE, Wyo. June 16.—Fred Brown, Omaha maniac, was believed by authorities here today in hiding near Dix, Neb., about eighty miles east of here.

Last night a man answering Brown's description disarmed the night marshal at Dix and fled in a stolen automobile. A posse was organized and is searching for Brown today. Guy Hyers, Nebraska state sheriff and Warden W. T. Fenton, of the Nebraska state penitentiary are heading the posse.

TREADING ROOM ONLY, IS CONDITION AT COVE

LA JOLLA, June 16.—The "standing room only" sign was brought out and polished for use last Sunday at the La Jolla bathing cove, when persons from all parts of the surrounding country gathered there for picnics and swimming. It is said that the water of the cove was so filled with swimmers that there was "treading room only."

12 FIRMS HERE DELINQUENT IN LICENSE TAX

With the second quarter of the city license year nearly ended, only twelve business firms today stood recorded on the books of City Clerk Ed Vegely as delinquent in the payment of their tax, he announced.

The period for paying the second quarter's license without being subject to fine ended April 15. It closed with a large number of delinquents. All but twelve of the "live" firms have paid and a large number of the "dead" firms were eliminated when investigations disclosed that they had quit business, according to Vegely.

The eliminated license payers were largely firms that took out licenses for the purpose of conducting business only temporarily.

Among the twelve delinquents are one or two of the largest and most prominent business enterprises here. The delinquency is said to be intentional and will be taken care of when the license for the third quarter becomes due July 1.

For the first two quarters of the year, the clerk has collected $14, 246, which is about half of the total collected for the year 1921 under the new schedule of fees made effective January 1, 1921. The total revenue from license fees for 1922 will not be as great as for 1921, it was said.

A large number of firms liable for the tax paid for the full year in the first quarter and therefore will not contribute to the license fund in the last half of the year.

SAN JOSE SCOTTISH RITE PLAN BUILDING

SAN JOSE, June 16.—Definite action on the matter of erecting a new $300,000 Scottish Rite temple here will be taken at a meeting on June 27, it was announced here. A year ago the order bought property at St. James and Third streets for the new building.

Three sets of plans for the building, prepared by Carl Werner, San Francisco architect, will be the context of discussion at the meeting.
Provisions will be made in the structure for a banquet hall capable of seating 900 persons, a beautifully decorated lodge room, a stage, a clubroom for women, lodge room and clubroom for the Order of De Mo-lay, the boys' organization, and a completely equipped library.

DISABLED SOLDIERS VISIT WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 16.—On the spacious White House lawn President Harding, with General Pershing and Mrs. Harding in the receiving, welcomed approximately 1500 wounded veterans of the World war, who are under treatment in hospitals in and around Washington. Most of them were able to stand in line for the formal handshaking, while the president himself walked to greet the maimed in the wheel chairs and also a little group of those who had sacrificed their sight in the service.

A bevy of nurses and Red Cross aides dispensed cake and ice cream, grape juice and lemonade to the visitors. Several cabinet members, including Secretaries Hughes, Weeks and Wallace, as well as Theodore Roosevelt, acting secretary of the navy, mingled with the troop.

Cutlery Sharpened—Hawley's.

MALE QUARTET HEARD IN PLEASING PROGRAM

GARDEN GROVE, June 16.—The entertainment given by the Harmony Male quartet of Los Angeles at the Baptist church recently was well attended.

The program which was composed of musical monologues, readings, solos and duets was greatly enjoyed by the crowded house. A silver offering of $40 was given to help the boys who are working their way through college.

COX GIVES RULING AS TO LOANED CAR

Holding that the owner of an automobile which is loaned to another as a friendly act is not liable for damages that may be caused by the car or its driver while the latter has charge of it, Justice J.
B. Cox had today denied a damage claim filed by C. E. Forester, of Santa Ana, against James K.
Foyle of Fullerton.

Foyle and Kelley, the latter in charge of Foyle's car when it collided with Forester's car in this city last September, were sued jointly by Forester, who demanded $100 damages.

On the ground that Kelley had borrowed Foyle's car for his own purposes and was not acting as agent of Foyle in operating the car, the court dismissed the case as it affected Foyle.

Through an inadvertence, Kelley was not prepared to enter trial of the case yesterday, and the reedings with regard to him were continued to July 5 at 2 p. m.

Kelley is at present on probation under a criminal charge of failing to render aid after the collision with Forester's car. Kelley himself was not driving the car at the time of the crash, a girl companion being at the wheel.

STATES TO CONFER ON RAILWAY DISSOLUTION

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—California railroad commission has invited the public utility commissions of Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas to a conference in San Francisco on June 19 to discuss possible joint action by these states with reference to the separation of the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific railroads ordered by the United States supreme court in its recent decision in the Central Pacific dissolution case.

It is expected that the conference will consider whether an appeal should be made to the Interstate commerce commission urging the latter to exercise the powers conferred upon it by the Transportation act of 1920, for the consolidation of regional railroad systems.

The transportation act provides that the Interstate commerce commission shall adopt a plan for the consolidation of the railway properties of the United States into a limited number of systems and that the states affected shall be parties to such consolidation proceedings.

WITNESS TO SLAYING FREE IN JAIL BREAK

OROVILLE, Cal., June 16.—Five prisoners were liberated from midnight by unknown persons who drilled through the jail roof and effected entry to the cell room.

Among those who were set free was Daniel Damion, held in connection with the recent murder of C. C.
Conroy, wealthy rancher, who was killed on his ranch near Chico, Cal.
Damion, officers said, had admitted he was an eye witness to the murder.

KLANSMEN FAIL TO GET BOND FOR KLEAGLE

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—Nathan
A. Baker, kleagle of the Ku Klux Klan, who is declared to have admitted that he organized and directed the masked raid on the town of Inglewood, remained imprisoned today.

The Klan organization which produced $500 bail for thirty-five other persons, indicted in connection with the grand jury's investigation of the raid, failed to raise bond for Baker after Judge Houser had reduced the amount from $10,000 to $5,000, and the kleagle was returned to his cell apparently embittered at the failure of his comrades to come to his support.

Price today declared that he was certain that William S. Coburn, former grand goblin, who is the only indicted klansman who has failed to appear, would return in time for his trial.

PORTERVILLE BOARD VOTES PARK FUND

PORTERVILLE, June 16.—The city trustees voted $4000 for the park fund to be used for improving Murry park, the city's principal recreation center.

A new chemical truck chassis is to be advertised for by the city, and between $1400 and $2000 spent for new equipment. Need of another fire house at the southern end of Main street was discussed. Building permits during May totaled $30,000. All were for residences ranging from $2000 to $6000.

ARMY BARBERS GET CLEANLINESS RULES

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.— Though the term "barber" is said to be derived from the adjective "barbarous" because the medieval "barber" was also the surgeon and blood-letter of the community, the modern word has lost all its early significance at the local Presidio, where the tonsorial shows are hereafter to be models of cleanliness and up to date. "The sanitary inspector to frequently inspect the game." The order issued yesterday by the corps area commander and sent to all posts in the eight states of the area is as follows:

(a) That all razors, shaving brushes and other implements shall be sterilized before use in each separate case; that all antiseptic solutions be provided from the station hospital as required.

(b) Hot and cold water shall be adequately provided.

(c) Skin diseases shall not be treated by a barber, but reported to the station surgeon.

(d) The same towel shall not be used for more than one person without being laundered.

(e) If practicable, powdered soap shall be used in preference to cake soap.

Homestead Policy

Few realize in how large a degree the homestead policy was responsible for the prosperity and greatness of the nation in the past. The pioneer is always the farmer and home builder, but all the institutions of a complex civilization follow in his wake. When we come to a standstill in this policy of out-reaching development, as we have almost done during the past decade, we cease to grow, and for America to cease to grow is to cease to prosper.

In the half century between 1850 and 1900 the nation added 301,465,873 acres to the area of improved farms. This was a growth of more than 6,000,000 acres, or $5,000 farms, every year. These new farms brought prosperity not only to the middle west but to every part of the United States. They compelled the building of great lines of transportation; they opened a new market for the products of eastern factories, together with wide channels for the investment of the accumulated capital of the east; they enabled us to absorb millions of immigrants who became the very bone and sinew of the growing nation; they brought forth every year a vast fund of new wealth which was distributed throughout all the channels of trade and commerce. It was the most remarkable development of agriculture in the entire history of the race.

During the past 20 years the great engine of national progress has been reversed and stands almost idle on its tracks. As late as the decade between 1900 and 1910 the number of farms increased 10.9 per cent. In the ten years following, 1910 to 1920, the figure fell to 1.4 per cent. During the last decade cities of 10,000 and upward grew seven and a half times as fast as farm population. The tendency to farm abandonment, which began in New England many years ago, extended steadily westward, and now involves every state of the middle west, except Wisconsin and Minnesota. Facts of this kind could be multiplied almost indefinitely. If the downward trend continues, then the existing business depression must become a permanent condition.—William F. Smythe in the Review of Reviews.

FIRE IN BEACH CITY DOES LITTLE DAMAGE

(Special to The Register)

The garage at the rear of his home here yesterday caught fire but the flames were extinguished by the fire department before any great damage was done.

BANDIT ATTEMPTS TO ROB COUPLE IN CAR

(Special to The Register)
ANAHEIM, June 16.—Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schumacher, who returned to their home in this city last night after a motor tour in the mountains near Bakersfield, told a thrilling story of a chase they had with a masked bandit who attempted to hold them up as they passed through Tehachapi pass.

According to Schumacher, who is in business in West Anaheim and has ranch property near Bakersfield, the lone bandit occupied a small car, minus a top, and called out to Schumacher to halt as he attempted to drive his Cadillac sedan through the pass.

Instead of stopping, Schumacher sent the car forward at top speed. The would-be stick-up man, according to Schumacher, chased the larger car for about fifteen miles and then gave up the chase. The attempted hold-up occurred Sunday night.

DEFER ARRAIGNMENT OF ACCUSED IN THEFT

Arraignment of Dennis Weaver, charged with grand larceny, was continued by Superior Judge Z. B. West to next Friday at 11 a. m. Weaver is accused of the theft of oil drilling equipment valued at $4,000, from the property of the Consolidated Oil company in the Santa Ana canyon.

AN EARNEST ATTEMPT.

It is said there was once a Pennsylvania Dutch funeral custom that prevented the throwing of the first shovelful of earth upon the coffin until someone had said a kind word about the deceased.

The chaplain meant man of one community died and the neighbors were gathered about his grave waiting. Not a clod of earth was thrown because as yet no one had thought of anything good to say about the dead man. The hour grew late and still the open grave was surrounded by the silent neighbors.

Finally, having chores to do at home and seeing that the affair was going to last a long time, one man stepped forward and said:

"Well, I can say diss for Chake, once already yet. Sometimes he wasn't so mean as he was at odder times."

Then the sexton began shoveling.

THE THREE SAILORS.

Accouple of sailors got into a discussion over the kind of animal a heifer was. One claimed that the heifer belonged to the hog family, the other that it was a variety of sheep.

Finally they called in Boatwain Bill.

"Bill, wot's a heifer—is it a hog or is it a sheep?" they said.

Boatwain Bill bit off a large chew reflectively. Then he said:

"To tell you the truth, mates, I dunno much about poultry."—London Opinion.

LUCKY.

"Reggie isn't going to marry Dolly after all."

"But I thought he fell in love at first sight."

"Yes, but he took a second look."

HUBBY FINDS HE IS BIGAMIST, SUIT CLAIM

More than four years after he had wed, J. K. Wilbur made the astonishing discovery, he declared, that he was a "bigamous" husband.

Such was the charge contained in his suit for annulment, filed this afternoon in the superior court here against Dorothy Wilbur.

The Wilburs were married at Fendleton, Oregon, September 24, 1917.

They lived together until November, 1921, when, Wilbur asserted, he learned that his wife had another husband living, from whom she was not divorced at the time she married Wilbur in the famous Round-up city.

Wilbur then separated from her, he stated.

His suit to annul the marriage was filed through Attorney A. E. Koepsel.

Radio Across Seas

Telephone conversations from continent to continent across oceans are predicted in the tentative report of the government radio telephony conference. A band of wave lengths from 5000 to 6000 meters has been set aside for "transoceanic" radio telephone experiments, and the report states that "when transoceanic radio telephone experiments are to be conducted the department of commerce should endeavor to arrange with other countries for the use of the wave band 5000 to 6000 meters assigned for this purpose."

MRS. MARY MITCHELL SUMMONED BY DEATH

After an illness lasting only a little more than a week, Mrs. Mary M. Mitchell, for twenty years a resident of this city, died Thursday at the home of her adopted daughter, Mrs. Elsie Clark Millman, corner of Santa Clara avenue and North Flower streets.

Born in Preble county, Ohio, Mrs. Mitchell, in her girlhood days, visited friends in Missouri where she met the youth whom she afterward married, on Christmas day, 1872, in her father's home in Ohio. The young couple returned to Missouri, where they made their home for nearly thirty years when with their one son, J. H. Mitchell of this city, and a little adopted daughter, now Mrs. Elsie Clark Millman, they came to California.

In September, 1913, Mr. Mitchell died and since that time, Mrs. Mitchell and her daughter have made their home together.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at the Smith and Tutthill chapel with the Rev. J. G. Kennedy, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be in Fairhaven cemetery, by the side of her husband.

THE NEXT SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PRACTICAL NOTES PREPARED FOR THE REGISTER

Lesson for June 18. 2 Ks. 25: 1-12. The Downfall of Judah.

"It came to pass,"—v. 1. We would say—with a kind of vague indefiniteness of mind, which was not that of the prophet Jeremiah. "It happened." He saw that the downfall of Judah was at hand, and he knew definitely why it was so. Looked at from the viewpoint of the ordinary historian, the cause of Judah's loss of national identity was her unfortunate geographical location, between the then two world powers of Babylonia and Egypt. Her position was similar to that of Belgium at the beginning of the World War. Having forcibly been attached to Babylonia as a dependency, Judah rebelled and became a protectorate of Egypt. But Egypt failed to protect, and Judah was defeated in her effort to break the yoke of Babylonian servitude. This would be the common historical explanation. But Jeremiah and Ezekiel, historians whom God inspired, wrote from a different point of view. They dealt with the cause of Judah's downfall, and not alone with the occasion of it. Said Jeremiah, "The Lord hath afflicted her the multitude of her transgressions."—Lam. 1:5. Ezekiel 22:1-31 enumerates the gross sins of which the people were guilty, and then concludes by recording the Lord as saying, "Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath; their own way have I recompensed upon their heads." The attitude of the sacred historian is that national sin results in national chastisements. Though the secular historian invariably offers some other explanation for the decline and fall of nations, the correctness of this position is verified by all history. Reading Ezekiel and Jeremiah, one wonders if there was no connection in the World War between the invasion of Belgium by the "Huns" and Belgian atrocities along the Congo. Perhaps Jeremiah might begin his account of what took place in Belgium by saying, "It came to pass that tardy retribution for wrongs done by Belgian authority to the helpless natives of Africa began by the German invasion of Belgium." And might not Ezekiel have seen that the bombing of London resulted from the barbarism and heartless cruelty of English officers and soldiers in the Boer War? "Lest we forget," read these excerpts from the reports of English officers: "Our progress was like the old-time forays in the Highlands of Scotland two centuries ago. . . . We moved on from valley to valley 'lifting' cattle and sheep, burning, looting, and turning out the women and children to sit and cry beside the ruins of their once beautiful homesteads. . . . I gave the inmates—three women and some children—ten minutes; my men then fetched bundles of straw. The women cried and the children stood holding on to them and looking on with frightened eyes at the burning house. We left them a forlorn little group, smoke and flame streaming overhead. The people had thought we had called for refreshments, and one of the women went to get milk. Then we had to tell them we had come to burn the place down. . . . I told a woman and two daughters to take a few things and quit in ten minutes. We then set the whole place on fire. They dropped to their knees and prayed and sang, weeping bitterly the while. One of the poor women went raving mad." No, sir, this is not "pro-German propaganda," any more than the utterances of Jeremiah and Ezekiel were meant to be pro-Babylonian. "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." This is as true of nations as of individuals. Without excusing the sins of which it may be guilty, God uses one nation with which to punish another.

Jeremiah recognized this, and said of Babylon, "I will punish the king of Babylon, and that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chaldeans; and will make it desolate forever."—Jer. 25:12. God has but one way to save either a man or a nation that sins, and that is by repentance and restitution. If sorrow and recompense are not voluntary, then He will compel both. "They slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him with fetters, and carried him to Babylon."—v. 7. (See also vs. 9-12). The pictures of cruelty, mental and physical suffering, destruction and desolation, are complete and appalling. And yet this is war, and the thing in which men glory! If this had been the only instance of its kind in the history of the world, even the bravest of men would shudder at the very thought of it. War never is, was, will be or can be "humane," those who use this apology for it—as to the manner in which it should be conducted by civilized (!) nations—to the contrary notwithstanding. Oh, yes, "it does make one's blood boil, to think of the inhuman treatment of king Zedekiah, and his sons,"—but, "war is hell," and the hell never was meant for a pleasure resort. It was fiendish to put out the eyes of Zedekiah. And it was equally Satanic to make use of many of the diabolical methods that were employed by the "Christian" nations in the World War. Like men in similar positions now, no doubt King Nebuchadnezzar Commander in Chief of the Babylonian army pleaded as an extenuation of his cruelty, that it was "a war measure," and, much to his regret, circumstances made it necessary! But, looked at across the centuries, doesn't it seem absurd that there should have been any war at all? What pleasure, what lasting material possession, what enduring advantage of any kind was gained by it?—or by any war of aggression?

How long would Zedekiah have had to live to form the following opinion of the man at whose word his sons were put to death before his eyes, and he, with this picture of his dying sons to look at the rest of his life, rendered sightless? "Nebuchadnezzar is well described as 'The Giant of Babylon.' Greatness is stamped on all he said and did. He was a man cast in an imperial mold—great-souled, broad-minded, large-hearted. He was the master mind of his generation. No man in his dominions had his reach and grasp in statecraft or in strategy. When we think of Nebuchadnezzar we must class him with Napoleon, or Peter the Great, or Charlemagne, or with the man to whom he was most akin, Alexander of Macedon. He was great in war. . . . He took Tyre—a sea-port town of a few thousand inhabitants—'which thought itself impregnable in its island keep, after a thirteen years' siege. . . . He sat down before Jerusalem'—city at that time of some twenty thousand—'and after eighteen months of waiting sacked the city, and carried off the flower of its people as captives.' Surely when such a distortion of historical facts as this can find a place in one of the leading Sunday school journals of our country, the 'military millennium' is not over! Is the time at hand for us to take off our hat to 'Kaiser Bill'?"

LINCOLN, Neb., June 16.—C. H. Gustafson, head of the United States Grain Growers, Inc., through A. M. DEMPSEY READY FOR BOUT WITH 'EM ALL

Champ, Answering Jess, Says He'll Meet Anybody Any Time

(United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, June 16.—Jack Dempsey, personally, is ready to defend his title any time against any fighter, who thinks he has a look in.

This is his answer to charges by Jess Willard, former champion, whom he knocked out with a sanguinary beating at Toledo, that he is sidestepping Jess as a contender. Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, is more conservative and says that Dempsey will fight anyone whom the public will accept as a logical competitor. Kearns, in other words, has his eye on Tex Rickard and the gate receipts.

Kearns today said that he had several times talked with Willard about a fight during the past month, but said that the Kansas giant himself said that he was not in condi-

'RABBIT' BALLS IN BIG LEAGUE BOOST HOME RUN FIGURES

NEW YORK, June 16.—Although there was a profusion of evidence to convince them last year, major league magnates are just beginning to admit that a "rabbit" ball is being batted around in the major leagues. The club owners say that new life was put into the balls by a new machine which wraps the wool closer and gets the cover on tighter. They also pointed out that better hide and wool are available and that both are full of life.

The "rabbit" balls not only go far on the wing but they go funny on the ground. It is impossible to judge the hop that the ball takes going down the infield. Yesterday in St. Louis McManus dropped a fly in left field and it bounced over the fence.

This time last year the American league had 190 homers and Ruth was on high speed. This year the league has 193 and Ruth hasn't started. The National league had 160 against 157 this year.

"Willard says that he would be ready to fight in October," said Kearns. "In that event there would be plenty of time for Jack to go back to Michigan City and fight Bill Brennan and trim up Harry Wills at Jersey before Jess would be in shape to box. A fight with Willard could easily be arranged in October at Boyle's thirty acres if Jess can show he is in shape for it."

Kearns averred that the Bill Brennan fight looked good to him, and that there was a good chance of the match being definitely arranged. About the Wills fight, Kearns said nothing, however, and there are well-defined reports around Dempsey's training camp that Kearns is leaving for New York possibly today. Kearns has not announced this, though, and would not confirm it.

BAN OVER-HEAD CAST AT BALBOA, NEWPORT

BALBOA, June 16.—Over-head casting is a thing of the past on the fishing piers of Balboa and Newport. A new ordinance, effective today, prohibits all over-head casting among the fishermen in Orange county's harbor. A severe penalty is to be exacted for violation of the ordinance, it is declared. Owing to the many accidents, severe and painful, due to the over-head throw, it was found necessary to adopt rigid methods to protect not only the large "audiences" but also the fishermen themselves.

Fishing is exceptionally good from the piers, the catch being mackerel and corbina. The first albore of the season was brought in by the Juanita, while to the Pop fell the honor of catching the first yellow-tail.

The official weighing station of the Southern California Rod and Reel club in the Balboa Tackle shop reports C. Bragg is still high man in spot-fish croaker class with his catch of an eleven-pound two-ounce fish.

SEEKS SANTA ANA'S BEST POOL PLAYER

Who is the "straight pool" champion of Santa Ana?

That is what Ed Lee, proprietor of the new Valencia pool parlors on North Main street, intends to find out.

Lee announced that he will open a tournament the latter part of next week during which every entrant will play according to a regular "league" schedule on certain days and hours. No entry fees will be charged.

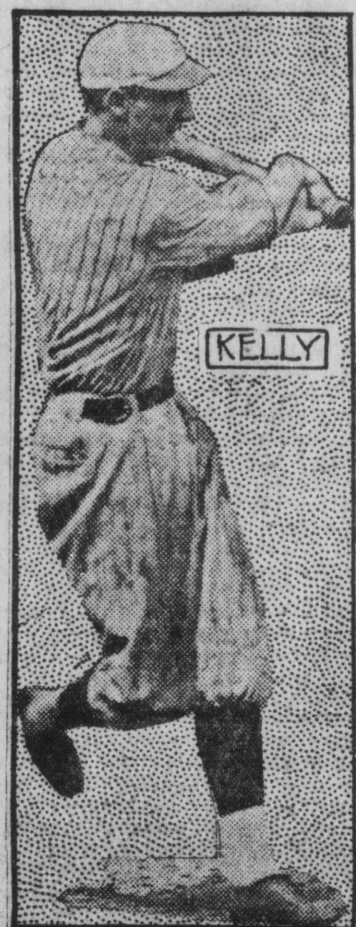

Ratings will be kept and at the end of the tournament the four with the highest percentage will be awarded prizes.

House rules are to govern all play. Each match will be for fifty points with two out of three games necessary to win. Lee opened his entry list today and said that interest in the championship play already was keen.

EXPECT BIG CROWD FOR GOLF CONTEST

One of the biggest crowds of golf enthusiasts that ever gathered at the Orange County Country club is expected to be on hand tomorrow afternoon to witness and take part in the competitions arranged for the benefit of beginners at the "royal and ancient" game.

President Charles G. Twist and the committee in charge of the event was busy today gathering up the list which will be handed out as prizes in the various events. The prizes will all be golf goods, so that winners will secure a trophy of some kind that can be added to their golf kit.

Only beginners are eligible to take part in the event, but regular players will be called upon to help out in exhibitions and games for the benefit of the beginners, President Twist announced.

In the neighborhood of 100 new members were taken into the club during the recent membership drive and many of them are expected to take part in the competition which will consist of driving, irons, approaching and putting contests. The first event will start promptly at 1:30 p. m.

Here Are Stars of Yesterday's Games

Topper Rigney tripled in the eighth after Cobb and Hellman had singled and the Tigers nabbed two runs that beat the Yanks, 2 to 1.

Stock tied the score with a homer in the ninth inning and Hornsby won the game in the tenth with a double, the Cardinals topping the Robins, 4 to 3.

After a two months' layoff, Duster Mails pitched six innings for the Indians and then had to retire, the Red Sox winning, 8 to 3.

McManus' homer with Sisler on base gave the Browns a 3 to 2 win over the Senators. The homer was a line drive that bounded over the left field fence.

George Smith let the Reds down with six scattered hits and the Phils finally won a game, 7 to 0.

With the bases filled, Hauser, pinch hitter, singled and gave the Athletics a 10 to 8 victory from the White Sox. Walker hit his twelfth home run and Dykes his sixth.

"NO FACTORY CAN EQUAL sweet clover as a nitrate maker."
"In my distress I decided to consult Prof. S. D. Gromer of the Missouri College of Agriculture." "It takes nitrates to produce crops." He declared. "Why all the fuss about Muscle Shoals nitrate plant? Four-fifths of the air is nitrogen; each acre supporting 34,844 tons." "Why should a man worry about the nitrogen in sodium nitrate, when there are many tons of nitrogen pressing on his farm?"

FARMERS HAVE A NITRATE PRODUCER—that makes nitrates at $5 to $15 a ton, as well as performing other services.
"I found that 8 tons of barnyard manure to the acre were inferior to green sweet clover plowed under, for the production of potatoes." "You must sow only good seed. You must inoculate the seed." Inoculated cow-peas are as good as clover. Plant in June.

IMPORTANCE OF WATER

Tustin Cal., June 16, 1922.
Editor Register: Your editorial column of last night carries a notice of more than usual importance to Santa Ana and Orange county. Under the title, "The Greatest Good," you call attention to the possibility of the cities and towns located in the Santa Ana watershed acquiring the water of the Arrowhead reservoir.

An adequate water supply is of prime importance to this valley. We are now using up a stored supply and when it is exhausted we will be restricted to the use of very much less water than we now employ. This means the production of very much less wealth. All the capital and soil and climate in the world will not produce agricultural wealth without moisture.

We can not take this water for the purposes of irrigation, because it lies in the water shed north of the mountains. We can, however, take it for domestic purposes.

The acquiring of this water by the municipalities in the Santa Ana watershed will relieve just that much water for irrigation; so, indirectly, we will be adding it to our irrigation supply. I do not know whether our people will awaken to their great opportunity or not, but if the Arrowhead water can be obtained at a reasonable price it would be the height of folly not to acquire it.

Yours truly,
C. E. UTT.

ABOUT PARKS

Editor Register: Having just read your editorial on the McFadden park proposition, and the number of parks in Santa Ana, I would suggest a little more care to the present park and some attention to conditions existing there. Children can not play without a bunch of ugly men laying around watching every move; also loitering in front of the women's toilet. I understand a man is being paid to attend the park, but you can seldom see him around.

The city owns a beautiful piece of ground around the water works that would make a beautiful playground, but at present contains a stable and is used as a dumping ground for the fifth swept up off the streets, regardless of the fact that it is within a few yards of our water supply reservoir, and is surrounded by homes, whose owners would be pleased to see it turned into something besides a fly and germ-breeding farm. Will you investigate this and let us hear from you?

MAN HURT AS LIGHT GLARE CAUSES CRASH

Charles Galloway of Los Angeles was bruised but escaped serious injury, it was learned today, in a collision between his automobile and a car driven by C. A. Middleton of Montebello at night on the state highway, three miles south of Tustin.

Galloway was taken to the county hospital in a Los Angeles-San Diego stage after the accident, but remained at the hospital only a brief time.

The collision, as reported to the local police by Middleton, occurred at 10:30 p. m. when Middleton, blinded by the glare of an approaching car's headlights, crashed into the rear of Galloway's car, which, he said, had no tail light and had stopped beside the boulevard. Middleton did not see Galloway's car until he was within ten feet of it, he said.

BATHERS WHO ISSUE FAKE CALLS FOR HELP MUST PAY BIG FINE

BALBOA, June 16.—"Fake calls for help from surf bathers, especially if the call comes from the type of person who rocks the boat when he cannot swim, are to be dealt with in no uncertain manner," said A. W. Jackson, head of the fire and life-saving departments here today.

"Such a person will be saved, all right, and he will be given first-aid treatment that feels very like a beating. Furthermore, he will have the privilege of paying a fine that may be any sum from $10 up to $125. We usually have one fake call during a season; rarely ever is there a second offense."

WOMEN ASSURED BUILDING FOR CLUBHOUSE

LA HABRA, June 16.—Because of the street fair and dance held here recently, afternoon and evening, the Woman's club of La Habra is richer by several hundred dollars. The fair was held on Hiatt street, between Erna and Central avenues. Booths lined the sides and the street itself formed the dance floor. About $500 was realized from the fair and nearly $400 was given in subscriptions. The entire sum is to be used toward the building of a club house.

Attractive booths did a thriving business all afternoon and evening. Mrs. C. E. Tower had charge of a floral booth; Mrs. Walter Hole and Mrs. C. L. Crumrine, lace work; Mrs. Charles Newson and Mrs. R. F. Frantz, refreshments; Mrs. McGraw, mops; Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Hamilton, grab bags; Mrs. Fred Drake, Japanese booth; Mrs. George Wolfe and Mrs. J. H. Walker, the subscription booth; Mrs. W. L. Rhodes and Mrs. J. I. Williams, cooked food.

Mrs. M. F. Davis had the dance under her direction. She was assisted by a group of young business men. About 1500 attended. The club house is an assured fact, according to club members. Six lots, together with the commissions from the sales of the whole tract, amounting to about $11,000, was the gift of J. H. Walker and C. E. Beck, owners. Mrs. H. E. Hart, president emerita, bequeathed $500 to the club. George Koenig donated $100 and F. E. Proud gave sand for the building amounting to about $200.

EL MODENA

EL MODENA, June 16.—Mrs. Robert Mapson was pleasantly surprised Friday afternoon when a group of her friends of her Sunday school class entertained in honor of her birthday. She was invited to Santa Ana for luncheon and on returning found the following friends at her home:

Mrs. Barnett, Brubaker, Stone Granger, Clate Stanfield, S. O. Stanfield, J. Stanfield, Komers, Davis, Sondericker, Mary, Crowell, Haden, Hodson and others.

Loren Law is recovering from his recent illness and is able to be about again. Law's sister, Mrs. Johnson, of Los Angeles, spent last week at the Law home.

Clifton Hamilton and family are spending several days at their mountain home.

Frank Sodericker and family are planning a few days' motor trip to Lindsey visiting friends and relatives.

The El Modena Sunday school observed children's day Sunday, June 11. The church was beautifully decorated with Shasta daisies. All the children did remarkably well with their part of the exercises.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bolton entertained at dinner Sunday, Mrs. Frank Arambel and daughter, Lorraine. In the afternoon all motored to El Toro where they called at the home of J. C. Kelley.

On Monday evening the young people's Sunday school class, with a few of the older persons went grumion fishing.

The Misses Elsie White, Mable Haines and Mrs. Nell Gruell shopped in Los Angeles Tuesday. John Wing has purchased the Shepherd place, formerly known as the Johnstone place.

Emma Brubaker arrived from Illinois last Saturday evening. After three years' absence she declares she is happy to be at home again. Plans are under way for several improvements in the church building.

The community is saddened to learn of the resignation of the Rev. Mr. Carter from the local church. His physician has ordered a year's complete rest.

FARM CENTER PLANS FOR EXHIBIT AT FAIR

LA HABRA, June 16.—La Habra will be represented at the Orange county fair to be held in Huntington Beach, according to plans made at the last meeting of the local farm center held Thursday night.

J. G. Launer was appointed chairman of a committee to co-operate with the La Habra Chamber of Commerce in arranging an exhibit.

James A. Smiley was the speaker. He talked on the annual farm bureau traveling conference which he attended as the Orange county representative. W. J. Pickering spoke on the diseases of citrus trees especially root troubles. Mrs. N. H. Garretson read her monthly paper, "The Center Tattler," always an enjoyable feature of the center meetings.

Clinic Opens July 1. Directors of the La Habra Red Cross have given $100 to establish a public health clinic at the La Habra Mexican camp. The donation was made at a dinner given the board Monday evening at the camp when the Mexican women cooked and served the meal. Eighteen were present. It was also a reception to Mrs. Ellenor Hagen, the new teacher, and was arranged by Miss Druzilla Mackey, who is retiring from this position to take charge of the various camps in northern Orange county.

The clinic will be started July 1 and will be in charge of Mrs. Hagen and will be housed in a new building in the rear of the community hall. The Mexican mothers will be taught to care for their babies and the sick and be instructed in sewing and cooking.

Lets Cat Out of Bag. Literally letting the cat out of the bag was the means used to tell of an engagement Monday when an attractive party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Leutwiler.

After an evening of games and music a kitten was brought in, bagged. It escaped and was captured by Miss Mary Louise Hickman, who found the names, Miss Myrtle Leutwiler and Harold Robertson, on a card attached to kitty's neck. Refreshments followed the well wishing.

Robertson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Robertson and is located at Huntington Beach. Both of the young people are well known in La Habra and are graduates of Fullerton Union High school.

Those present at the party were: The Misses Jewel Dunn of Fullerton, Ruth Clegg of Brea, Lillian and Lois Threlkeld, Mary Louise Hickman, Hazel Cook, Mary Boice, Hattie Robertson, Alta Canfield, Flora Leuthm, Louise Buehlman, Susan Walker, Edna Wagner, Ethel Lindell, Lupe Alopas, Aline Middleton, Mildred and Dorothy Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson.

SEEK TO CHANGE NAME. A petition was filed in the superior court by C. C. and G. R. Jones, Inc., of Fullerton, for leave to change the corporation's name to G. R. Jones, Inc. C. C. Jones has disposed of his interests in the company to G. R. Jones, it was stated in the petition.

THEATERS

Tonight's Attractions. YOST—Buster Keaton in "The Paleface" and Tom Mix in "Up and Going," vaudeville. TEMPLE—Lillian and Dorothy Gish in "Orphans of the Storm." PRINCESS—Doris May in "Boy Crazy."

WEST END—Wallace Reid in "Across the Continent" and Lewis Stone in "The White Mouse."

MONTE BLUE PLAYS DANTON IN "ORPHANS."

Just as Monte Blue has a friendly word for everyone, so everyone seems to have a friendly word for him. He is a fine exponent of the idea we get what we give.

"When Mr. Griffith told me I could play Danton," said Mr. Blue, "I searched the libraries for stories of his life in France. I read every line I could find. I read the 'French Revolution' over and over again."

Mr. Blue said Mr. Griffith asked him to give an opinion of "Orphans of the Storm," now showing at the Temple.

"I could not do it the first time I saw the picture," he said. "I was so overcome. I sat through it like some one in a trance. Please do not think it was because I had a part; it was because I think the picture is so wonderful. I had to go again and look at it all a second time."

WEARS ODD MAKE-UP. Mary MacLaren, leading woman for Wallace Reid, in "Across the Continent," now at the West End, has to wear a character make-up in this picture. The "character" part of the make-up consists of streaks and patches of black mud and dirty axle grease on her face, over the pink complexion grease paint.

It was necessary thus to alter her screen beauty, because in the latter part of the picture Mary acts as a mechanic for Wally when he drives a small racing car across the continent. They tear at breakneck speed through all sorts of weather and over all kinds of roads, and a mechanic under such circumstances would naturally have a dirty, greasy face. Wally wins the race all right, but who couldn't with a pretty mechanic like Mary sitting at one's side.

FREED ON BAIL. Louis Manzo, 1022 Cypress street, Santa Ana, was free on $25 bail today while awaiting trial on a charge of battery. He is scheduled to come before Justice J. B. Cox June 17 at 2 p. m. The complaint against Manzo was filed by Porfirio Manzo.

BARES AUTOPSY RESULT. LOS ANGELES, June 16.—Autopsy performed today showed that Lieutenant Paul Lowry, who was found dead in his room here Monday morning, came to his death from natural causes, Coroner McDonald announced today.

It is Buddy's Brother's Turn Now. Buddy did his bit. He'll have to do it next time also if you don't train now. Uncle Sam pays you for training one night a week and he will take you for a two weeks' vacation this summer at Monterey. Make it snappy, brother, and help fill up the old outfit. DORIS MAY SPARKLES ON PRINCESS SCREEN. Sparkling Doris May in "Boy Crazy" opened yesterday at the Princess theater and for five solid reels kept up a lively bombardment of the audience with hand-grenades full of laughs and chuckles and good old-fashioned roars. Most prominent among the superb cast of fun-makers that supports the star is Harry Myers, remembered for his clever work in the leading role of "A Connecticut Yankee."

The story has to do with the adventures of Jackie Cameron (Doris May), a sprightly young woman whose father conducts the village dry goods store. She is a pretty young bud and much admired by all the young blades of town. Into the community, which is called Santa Boobara, comes a he-dressmaker, impersonated by Harry Myers. While he sells fancy apparel to women he is, however, a very masculine chap. When all the best trade flows to his smart emporium Jackie sees her father's trade dwindling. So she opens a similarly snappy establishment and sells haberdashery for the young men of town. Her personal popularity and business acumen out-do the visiting designer and in the end she wins everlasting happiness as well. The picture is to be screened for the last times tonight.

LAST CHANCES TO SEE NEW PICTURES AT YOST. Tonight Buster Keaton in "The Paleface" and Tom Mix in "Up and Going" are to be seen for the last times on the new silver sheet at the Yost.

The pictures, which have attracted unusual attention during their run here carry many novel situations and new bits of business.

DRAMATIC STORY. "Shame," the William Fox special production, which opens here tomorrow at the Yost theater, is the tale of a man in the prime of life surrounded by every luxury and comfort, happy in the possession of a beautiful wife and a charming baby, but whose life is wrecked when a man tells him a secret.

GRANT VENUE CHANGE IN SUIT OVER $6,000. Brought to Orange county through a change of venue, granted by the Los Angeles county superior court, the suit of the Torrance Lime and Fertilizer company against Fred L. Sexton, of Anaheim, was filed in the superior court here.

The plaintiff demands $6,518.30, which is claimed to be the balance due on an account of $33,476.39 for fertilizer supplied the defendant, for obligations assumed and money expended in his behalf.

John F. Koehg and C. C. Misher, Los Angeles attorneys, represented the plaintiff. Sexton has retained Ames and McFadden, Anaheim legal firm.

PSYCHOLOGY'S USE IN SCHOOLS

Dr. R. A. Cushman has written to The Register a clear-cut statement of his views upon the use of intelligence tests in the schools of Santa Ana. The communication, a reply to an editorial that appeared in The Register a few days ago, reads as follows:

Editor Register:—We feel that your editorial of June 13 regarding "Intelligence Tests" in our schools should not go unanswered.

Santa Ana was one of the three cities of California which first adopted this modern method of measuring the mental power of the school children. Since its inception great progress has been made so that at present we still rank well in the forefront with other progressive cities of the state, a position which we should not surrender without giving the matter the most careful and expert study to avoid stepping back. The method is now in practical use in many of the city schools of Southern California.—Los Angeles, San Diego, Long Beach, and Pasadena being among those which are reporting successful results.

Intelligence measurement was used in the late hastily constituted army with great success, as shown by many articles in scientific journals, although mistakes were made and noted as in all new fields of endeavor. It was proven that those whose mentality tested below the average made more or less inefficient soldiers.

Harvard, Columbia, in fact practically all of the large universities, are adopting the intelligence tests as well as the usual written examination in ascertaining the fitness of prospective students. Engineering schools have installed them almost universally. Many corporations which have numerous employees, such as the chain of silk mills and the Overland factories, have their men mentally examined by salaried industrial psychologists as a practical business proposition.

Courses for the training of intelligence psychologists are now to be found in many universities and young men and women are adopting this profession for their life work. Two of our Santa Ana young women are now taking instructive courses at Columbia College of New York, and Smith College of Massachusetts, to be ready to meet the growing demand for such experts in the business and educational world. In your editorial you maintain that the quick thinker who is able to take snap judgment rates higher. The originators and two greatest authorities on intelligence tests are Binet and Terman of Stanford. The Binet method makes no note at all of quickness, while Terman employs it only as one test and does not rely upon speed exclusively.

This intelligence test is of benefit to all the pupils, for by this means those pupils who are a little backward in acquiring knowledge can be separated from the others and given special individual work. If all degrees of intelligence are placed in one grade of, say forty or sixty students, the backward child does not have an opportunity to absorb much and is compelled to repeat the grade the following year instead of maintaining his interest by progressing into new work more slowly; so that eventually he gets much more out of his school work than if he had not had the benefit of special attention. It should be borne in mind and emphasized that this test is a measurement of inherent ability to learn and not of acquired knowledge.

It would seem from a careful perusal of numerous reports of the results of these tests in various schools that not only should the method be continued, but that we should keep abreast of other progressive schools and colleges by having children's vocational examinations to determine the natural bent of the child, so that his studies may be properly directed with a view to specializing along those lines of his inherent ability, and thus prevent what we so often see now, men and women only partially successful because they are not mentally adapted to the field in which they are working—cases of the "square peg in the round hole."

We admit that only those who are trained and competent should make these tests and that the result should not be revealed to any one except the teachers, and parents when deemed necessary. Let's keep our schools abreast of the times in every way possible.

We agree with much that the doctor has written. We do not for a minute hold with those who declare psychology to be "bunk", and we do not object to the use of psychology in the schools, but rather to the manner of its use.

As a help to a teacher in placing her students psychological tests have a place of value, especially useful in cases where the teacher is not thoroughly alive to her job. It is less useful when the teacher is competent and experienced, for that kind of a teacher will inevitably in her own mind grade the intelligence of her pupils as surely as is possible through psychological tests. That is, an intelligent teacher can classify the mentality of her pupils accurately without the aid of psychology. This, we understand, the psychologists admit, but they take the ground that it is better for the teacher and the child if the grade of mentality is known the first day of school instead of having that knowledge develop gradually later in the school year.

Our contention is, that intelligence tests when used ought to be used as a school aid rather than as a measurement upon which one must pin his entire faith, as we believe is the tendency in most schools that have introduced the tests here.

We believe, and Dr. Cushman agrees, that extreme caution should be used in allowing any child to become aware of his classification. In fact, the editorial that appeared in The Register was inspired by that consideration more than by any other. Without going deeply into the merits of psychology as a science for every-day use in dealing with a mass of children, it appeared to us to be as dangerous for a child with a high intelligence quota to know that he is very bright and therefore does not have to work as it is for a child who is classed as slow to know his classification and thereby be discouraged. We say this, aware of the fact that psychologists say that there is no resentment on the part of the child who is classed as slow, and that they contend that the results from classification are of such great consequence to him that it is better for him to suffer chagrin than to be cut off from the advantages of special attention.

Let us take it for granted that psychology offers an avenue for as great good in school work as is indicated by Dr. Cushman. Dr. Cushman is one of many who have given the science close study and have become convinced of its higher value. Admit, too, for the facts are as Dr. Cushman states them, that psychology is being applied in many large businesses. Still, we believe that it should be applied with great caution in schools. We believe the use of the science in the schools is to a certain extent experimental, and, we repeat, unless applied in an expert manner is dangerous and will prove detrimental to the cause of those who believe it should be given wider scope in school work.

TO CONTROL FLYERS

Secretary of War Weeks should have strong support from the public, as well as from the President to whom he has appealed, in his efforts to hasten the federal control of aviation.

There is control now of the army and navy aviators, by their respective departments, but there is no jurisdiction over civilian flyers and there are no rules for their conduct. Both are sought in a bill pending in Congress for the creation of a bureau of aeronautics within the Department of Commerce. The bureau would establish rules for the air, license pilots and exercise supervision over all civilian flying. This measure is stuck in the legislative jam, and there is little prospect of its early enactment unless the President or the public, or both together, insist strongly on its passage.

The United States has been strangely slow in taking such action. Nearly all European countries of any importance in aviation have already established the necessary control.

SEE MERGER DANGERS

The Federal Trade Commission is doing well to keep an eye on the steel mergers that have been filling so large a place in the business news. It has announced that it will test the legality of the Bethlehem-Lackawanna merger and the proposed Midvale-Republic-Inland merger, and any other that may develop. The commission expresses its fear that competition will be hindered by the new combinations.

Competition is to be preserved, by all means, as long as competition remains the rule of business. But it is an open question whether there is really any competition left now in the steel business. The United States Steel Corporation has only about half the market. But if this biggest of trusts and its supposedly "independent" rivals have really been competing, there is not much evidence of it in recent history.

The trust has made no effort to ruin its competitors by low prices. It has not had to. Usually the independents have cheerfully followed the trust prices, instead of trying to undercut them. During the boom they often charged more than the trust, and got it, on the ground of quicker delivery.

Possibly the Federal Trade Commission aims to restore, rather than preserve, competition. If so, it is a worthy enterprise.

More important, perhaps, than anything that could be done along that line at this stage of the proceedings, would be to make sure that in the new mergers there shall be no stock-watering, under any guise, for future investors to absorb and the public to pay for. The public is now paying dividends on half a billion dollars' worth of stock that was worthless when the big steel trust was organized, and has been made good by surplus profits from prices that need never have been charged, except for such watering.

Stock representing no real values, when once validated, must draw dividends and remain a public burden indefinitely.

Defective Eyesight

New York Evening Sun

A prominent health officer recently stated that of 100,000 pupils of the New York public schools who failed to be promoted, fully half—50,000 children are held back by defective eyesight and not by lack of brains.

This authority states, "It is amazing how many persons there are in the United States suffering from defective eyesight. In the first draft of the American soldiers in 1917 had eyesight caused nearly three times as many rejections as any other physical defect. At the time of this draft 2,510,706 men, between the ages of 21 and 31, were examined and 730,756, or 29.1 per cent were rejected for physical reasons. One table, based upon the rejection of 10,258 men from representative sections of the country, showed that 2,224 had been rejected for defective eyesight, a percentage of 21.68."

Gradually the general public is realizing the importance of caring for the teeth in order to preserve good health, but the eyes, the most important part of our physical equipment, are often neglected until the actual fear of blindness drives the sufferer into taking the necessary means of preserving them. The proper time to remedy defects in eyesight is when boys and girls are young. No child should be sent out into the world handicapped by a defect that, in most instances, could be overcome by a pair of glasses, properly adjusted at the proper time.

Love of Boys for Dogs

Pasadena Star-News

William Allen White, the famous Kansas editor and author, has broken out spectacularly again. And it is in a good cause, too. He protests against city authorities of Emporia trying to bribe the boys of that town to pick up stray dogs and take them to the pound to be killed. The militant author of "What's the Matter With Kansas?" makes this interrogational thrust at the municipal "powers that be": "Doesn't the city administration know that the boy who would deliberately bring a stray dog to the city pound to be killed for two-bits ought to be killed himself?" Then he follows with these body blows:

"What's the matter with this city administration, anyhow? Were they never boys? Don't they know that the average boy would rather earn two-bits mowing a lawn with a straight string of boys marching by him to the swimming hole rather than to see a stray dog killed? The advertisement had in it the meanest inference about Emporia boys that ever has been made. Think of the kind of a boy who valued a quarter above the life of a dog—a stray dog—any kind on earth!"

Quite right you are, Will Allen White! It may be necessary—unquestionably it is—to pick up stray dogs and to put some of them to death. But that fine strain in boy-nature which loves a dog should not be shattered through offers of rewards for gathering up these fugitives to be killed. Let the men do this.

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

THE WAY YOU LOSE

Oftimes those who fail—win. No one ever wins all the time. But many of those who fail, win—in time.

There is something infinitely big and fine and inspiring about a good loser. The three hundred brave men at the Pass of Thermopylae who saw certain failure rushing fast upon them and driving them to their death, never flinched, never faltered. They lost—but only to win on into the centuries and to inspire millions to big deeds and great sacrifices when their names and their deed had become ancient history.

No one ever wins all the time. Baseball is one of the greatest sports of all times. Mighty poor in something vital is the man or woman who doesn't appreciate this game. And daily on the baseball diamonds there is revealed as fine a bunch of good losers as ever walked or breathed. For one side has to lose every game that is played.

No one ever wins all the time. It's the way that you lose that counts. So be a good loser always. Smile it out. Grit it out. Your chance will come again. Perhaps the very next time you will be a winner—because of the very thing you have learned by losing this time.

Everybody has been a miserable failure at something—or would be. The happy man is he who is a success at something that he can do well. You can smile, anyway. And if there is one thing that this old world needs, it is a great international army and navy of smilers. So remember—No one ever wins all the time. It's the way that you lose that counts.

Worth While Verses

INDISPENSABLE

The world is crowded with clever chaps
Who, given some work to do—perhaps
Will finish the job in season;
But who will probably stall and shirk Postpone, procrastinate, dodge the work
For any old sort of reason;
But the Other Kind—they are precious few—
Are the fellows who hop right to it—
The men who do what they say they'll do
At the time that they say they'll do it!

Oh, the time we waste and the nerves we fray
With the folks who promise a job today
And bring it in three days later!
There's nobody causes so much of pain
As the chap whose promise is wholly vain.
The chronic procrastinator!
How welcome then is the toiler who,
Having started a task, gets through it—
The man who does what he says he'll do
At the time that he says he'll do it!

He may be plodding, he may be slow
But when he gets on the job, you know
He'll finish it—on the minute;
And because he's true to his word and task,
He'll get whatever he cares to ask.
Of the world and the wealth that's in it.
Success will follow his efforts through,
He never will have to woo it—
This man who does what he says he'll do
At the time that he says he'll do it!

A DIFFERENT SORT OF FACT.

First Assistant Postmaster General Bartlett tells a story of a political speaker in the ex-governor's own home state of New Hampshire. The campaigner began, deliberately:

"Ladies and Gentlemen: In addressing you today, I shall be brief. I shall begin by the plain, unadorned statement of three facts, one of which is true."

UTILITY.

"Your wife is very religious, isn't she?"
"Why, no; what makes you think that?"

In the Long Ago

June 15, 1908.

Because the county supervisors found it impossible to appropriate $1,000 for the purpose, the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce cannot place a county exhibit at the state fair at Sacramento. The committee that interviewed the supervisors was George McPhee, A. J. Crookshank, R. J. Blee, A. D. Bishop and J. C. Joplin.

The salaries of five letter carriers and five clerks of Santa Ana post office have been raised, most of them from $900 a year to $1,000. Deputy Fish and Game Commissioner J. W. Morrison has applied to the state commission for some wild turkeys to be turned loose in the Santa Ana mountains.

Among those graduating this year from Pomona college are Miss Mabel McFadden, Will Spurgeon and Harlow Halladay, Santa Ana, and Merton Hill, Garden Grove.

Ancient Tale

It is pretty hard in these days of almost universal literary culture for anybody to "get away with" an unverified quotation. Sir James M. Barrie brought down upon himself at St. Andrews, the story of the monk and the lark to Nansen, the Norwegian explorer. The story is, in fact, a very old one—how the monk went forth in the morning and stood rapt by the song of a lark, and finding on his return to the convent that he had been gone 100 years. It appears now that everybody except Sir James knew the original of the story—out of Beekstein's German Fairy Tale, retold in the poem, "The Legend of the Monk Felix," included in Longfellow's "Golden Legend," and also in the poem of William Allingham, "The Abbot of Inisfallen," which would imply a Gaelic origin. The story is probably as old as the institution of monasticism in Europe and may have been transplanted from the Orient with many other beautiful things, by the first Crusaders.

Still, Sir James was to be pardoned. It was the perennial delight of Max Muller to trace these old stories to their source merely to prove that nothing worth while in folk lore was "original," or that the best stories ever told were "universal," and the author utterly lost in the darkest mists of antiquity.

Amundsen has gone to the north pole to find how weather is made. Better try the equator.
The man whose trousers need pressing can get consolation by looking at any statue.

Trend in the Right Direction

Picture a funeral passing your house with 38,000 hearses, each hearse containing an American business firm.

That gives you an accurate idea of the number of business failures since prices began to tumble in May, 1920.

But all is not gloom. Standing thoughtfully on the curbstones, watching their deceased brethren going to Dun & Bradstreet's cemetery, are nearly 2,000,000 business organizations that have weathered the storm without sinking.

In two years of very severe depression, only one business in each 53 has failed.

In a flash this illustrates the great underlying strength of our tar that cannot be toppled by any storm.

As usual, of course, attention centers on the ships that sink. Ships that weather the storm are ignored. Thus the financial ocean, like the Seven Seas, gets a worse reputation than it really deserves.

I they turn back four months, they find 2723 failures in January. Steadily the storm subsides. Observing this, young blood desires to put to sea—to try its hand. So in May, 354 new companies were incorporated in the principal states with capital of $100,000 or more apiece. Thousands of smaller ones also ventured forth. They are the rowboats.

How much did they fail for? That is the important question. Failures, during the depression that now is nearing its end, have had total liabilities or debts at a rate of about $6,000,000,000 a year. Assets have averaged enough to pay about 50 cents on $1.

The total or net loss, due to failures, has been running around $300,000,000 a year—or about $3 a share for each American. That, after all, is not such a big price to pay for getting out of the woods.

HEALTH
SOMETHING ABOUT HOW TO KEEP WELL

HAY FEVER

Hay fever is giving way gradually to medical science. Hay fever sufferers are legion. Many are attacked at the same hour of the same day each year. Many seek relief in new climates, but now comes word that relief is possible in many cases right at home.

If hay fever comes at practically the same time each year, a fairly accurate guess often may be made, by noting the particular grass, weed or flower pollen common at that time.

In hay fever or asthma occurring at odd times it is wise to have a competent physician examine the throat and nose for any obstruction in the upper air passages.

If none can be found, it should be noted whether or not the attack is preceded by contact with certain animals, absence of which gives relief.

It should next be noted whether the patient is free from symptoms when away from home. If so, the patient should experiment by substituting hair for feather pillows, cotton for hair mattresses, etc. Women and girls afflicted with hay fever or asthma should be careful not to use talcum powders containingorris root. Note should also be made as to whether the symptoms always appear after eating such foods as eggs, strawberries and certain cereals.

If these simple tests all fail, a physician oftentimes can decide what causes the attacks by inoculating into the skin of the arm minute amounts of a sterile extract of each of the pollens or other substances considered capable of producing the symptoms. No discomfort is felt until the substance actually causing the trouble is injected, when a slight swelling, redness and itching occur. Once the right substance is thus detected, relief usually can be obtained by weekly inoculations of increasing doses of an extract of the offending substance, thus causing the body to manufacture its own antidote.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Twins Search for Peerabout

By Olive Roberts Barton

The Twins were hunting Mr. Peerabout, the Man-in-the-Moon. He was lost.

They looked into his house, but he wasn't there. Then they went to Snoozeland town and asked the Towslies (the little dream fairies), but they didn't know a thing.

Next they went to Smokysoot Village and asked the chimney fairies and the Sweep. But no Moon-Man.

Then they went to all the cities, the City of Ice, the City of Coral, and the City of Pearl, but nobody had seen him.

Then suddenly one old fellow in the City of Pearl remembered something.

"Tother day I was taking a walk," said he, "and I saw Mr. Peerabout talking to Comet-Legs on a mountain-top. After while I saw Comet-Legs coming back alone."

"Which mountain was it?" asked Nancy. "We'd better go up and see."

"That one yonder," said the old fellow, pointing.

Up the mountain they climbed, and when they got to the top they found the other side so steep it seemed to drop down into nothing. Nancy peeped over. Far, far below was the earth.

"Nick," she said, "I'll bet you anything Comet-Legs pushed Mr. Peerabout off the moon and he's down on the earth this minute. We'll have to go down and search for him."

Just then Wink returned from delivering a nice dream to an earth baby.

"Mr. Peerabout's there," he said. "I saw him."
